HOW TO MEASURE YOUR ROOM

- Be sure your measuring tape (is at least 25 ft. 50 ft. is better). And it's always a good idea to have a friend help you measure. The measurement will be more accurate when two can hold the tape straight.
- Measure the height and width of each wall in the room.
- Measure from one corner to the opposite corner to confirm the room is square
- (Measure the walls and not the baseboard trim molding)
- Measure your windows, doors and how high the windows are from the floor. (Make sure to give us the height from the floor to the bottom of the trim / molding)
- You should measure your doors and windows including the trim /moldings, but make sure to also give us the interior window measurement (length x height) as well as the door (length x height)
- Indicate the location of each electrical outlet. (From the center, don't forget the height)
- Indicate on your sketch drawings each wall type (i.e.: Wall A , B , C ...) make sure to annotate your pictures with the same description
- If there are walls that you are planning on removing, indicate this wall with a hidden line
- If there are any important architectural or obstacles (fireplace , existing millwork / cabinets) that are to remain in the space, please note the heights, sometimes it helps to draw the front view as an elevation and input the dimensions.
- Once you have finalized your drawing, please email to tania@tocdesign.com

HELP US HELP YOU

Here is a list of requirements we need from you

- Take photos while photo-framing the ceiling, flooring, and any architectural features, and send them to tania@tocdesign.com
- Don't forget to describe the space; it helps when you can take pictures of the 4 corners.
- Open an account on www.houzz.com and create an idea book, this is all free, and safe. it's like going through a magazine, except you can create a portfolio of things you love, this will help us determine your style and wish list.
- Be sure to follow me so that I can see your idea book.
https://www.houzz.com/pro/tocdesign/_public
- Share inspiration images or links that reflect your style. (Pinterest , Instagram, or Houzz) and/or furniture or decorative items that you would like to see in your final design.
- What are the overall measurements of the room? (Windows, doors, walls & ceiling height) Need help with this? We can send you a detailed "HOW TO MEASURE YOUR ROOM GUIDE"
- Fill in the questionnaire
- Once we have received all your information, we will contact you, to ensure we have everything we need to start the design process.
- You Pay us via internet transfer, we also accept checks if this is more convenient.
- This is an exciting time of your dreams becoming a reality, so relax and enjoy and let the professionals take care of you.
