

NEW YORK, NEW YORK

New York City comprises 5 boroughs sitting where the Hudson River meets the Atlantic Ocean. At its core is Manhattan, a densely populated borough that's among the world's major commercial, financial and cultural centers.

The first pizzeria in NYC was opened in NYC in 1895.

The New York Public Library has over 50 million books.

Deep down in the city, known as the financial district, sits the largest storage of gold bars in the world. 1,000 tons of glittering gold bars, which is equivalent to about 100,000 gold bars.

Until 1898, the city was known as New Amsterdam. It was renamed when the city was gifted to the Duke of York on his 18th birthday. The city has stuck around ever since.

The Statue of Liberty was a gift from the French people to the United States back in 1886.

The ice cream cone, pasta primavera and eggplant are all New York City inventions.

Albert Einstein's brain and eyeballs are kept in a jar in the city. Can you find that rather creepy?

There are more women than men in NYC.

New York City homeowners can request that a tree gets planted in front of their homes for free.

There is a birth in NYC every 4.4 minutes.

The population of NYC is over 8 million people.

More than 800 languages are spoken in New York City, making it the most linguistically diverse city in the world.

TIMES SQUARE

Times Square where when you were growing up you watched the ball drop on the Dick Clark Show every New Year's Eve even if you were out partying because that's what you knew it was midnight and you could kiss everyone and wish them a great new year.

Times Square receives over 40 million annual visitors each year, with approximately 300,000 visitors each day. From star-studded Broadway shows to world famous stores and restaurants, "The Crossroads of the World" is the hottest place in town. Wonder what the electric bill is?

NEW YORK NEW YORK NEW YORK

"Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to breathe free, The wretched refuse of your teeming shore. Send these, the homeless, tempest-tossed to me, I lift my lamp beside the golden door! "

The background image shows Ellis Island, a large, ornate building with multiple green domes and red brickwork, situated on a grassy area with trees. In the foreground, there is a body of water. A large, blue, diagonal banner with the word "Sample" in white text is overlaid across the center. In the upper left, there is a circular inset image showing a close-up of the Statue of Liberty's head and crown, perched on a pedestal.

Sample

Ellis Island had a prominent role in the Will Smith movie - Hitch

The Charging Bull (1989) is a bronze sculpture by artist Fritz Koenig that stands near Wall Street in Lower Manhattan. The bull is a forceful animal that stands at a wall.

Built in 1911 by the German company F. Laeisz, the Peking is part of the last generation of sailing ships, constructed right as steam-powered vessels started to dominate the market. The storied, black and white ship towered above the South Street Seaport from 1974 but returned to her birthplace in Hamburg, Germany in 1997.

Sample

VIEW OF CENTRAL PARK FROM THE TOP OF THE ROCKEFELLER BUILDING

ROCKEFELLER CENTER

I believe that love is the greatest thing in the world; that it alone can overcome hate;
that right can will triumph over might. ...John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

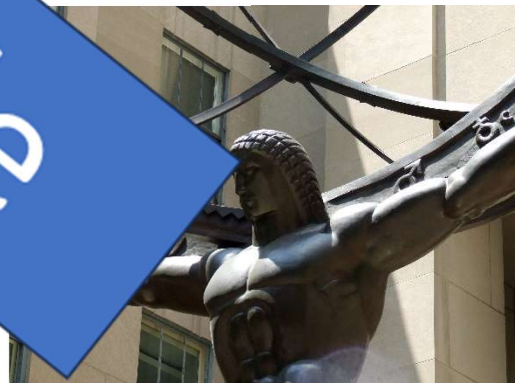

Although John D. Rockefeller Jr. spent most of his life engaged in philanthropy, his single, defining business venture was the creation of a “city within a city.”

Constructed during the Great Depression’s worst years, the project gainfully employed over 40,000 people. When Rockefeller Center officially opened in May, 1933, it held true to the developing team’s belief that art was an act of good citizenship.

Bas-relief of god Mercury on Rockefeller Center wall

30 Rockefeller Plaza boasted a grand lobby decorated by accomplished European artists, Frank Brangwyn and Jose Maria Sert. Throughout the 1930’s Rockefeller Center steadily improved, including some accidental innovations like the Christmas Tree tradition in 1931 and the skating rink in 1936. By 1939, more than 125,000 people were visiting daily.

RADIO CITY MUSIC HALL

Adult
DEC 28 2012 9:20 PM

EMPIRE STATE BUILDING
OBSERVATORY The Real Magic. The Real New York.

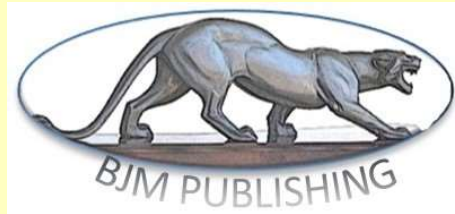

NEHB16 434738
Subject to early closure due to customer volume.
Good For 1 Admission
Tickets are Non-Refundable

Ticket expires 2 Years From date printed.

13112041038147

48477E

www.esbny.us

NEW YORK, NEW YORK!

2024