from the Principal's pen

The past few days are a reminder that life brings changes when we least expect it. No one would have guessed we would be out of school for three days because of ice. I know some of you took advantage of the wintry weather and did some sledding or made a snowman. Maybe some of you read a book. Or maybe you leveled up on your favorite video game. My hope for you is that you got a lot of rest and relaxation.

Now it is time to get back to work. We have a lot to accomplish in the next few months. Some of you are at the end of your journey in public education. You need to finish strong!

Some of you are in the middle of your education. You need to keep moving forward.

This is not a sprint. It is a marathon.
The good news is that you do not have to work alone.

You have your classmates to support you.

You have your family to support you.

And you have the wonderful Brookesmith faculty and staff to support you. We are here to help! Please lean on us!

Have a great day!

PS. I went up a few levels on Fortnite over the extended break. Just saying!

SCHOOL SHOUT OUT

Ms. Tessia

Ms. Tessa is the friendly face who greets everyone in the front office. Her three kids attend school here, and her family has been part of Brookesmith for the last five years. She has worked full time on campus for the past three years. She enjoys art and cows, but most days you'll find her cheering on her kids at sports or helping with peewee teams.

WHAT TO READ

Mrs. Edmonson

Elementary must read
"Farmer boy" by Laura
Ingalls Wilder

Mrs. Thomas

Secondary must read
"Flying Solo" by Ralph Fletcher

THIS WEEK IN HISTORY

George Washington, the commander of the Continental Army during the Revolutionary War, was unanimously elected the first president of the United States by all 69 presidential electors who cast their votes.

MATH IN EVERYDAY LIFE

Computer programmers and software designers use maths in all sorts of ways. Algebra is used to develop algorithms, statistics helps users analyse data, and calculus powers graphs and images. Video game animators and designers also need maths – they use algebra and trigonometry to build characters and other elements that move realistically on the screen.

SCIENCE FUN FACT

Most people have heard that the heart is on the left side of the chest. In reality, the heart is in the middle of the chest, tucked snugly between the two lungs.
