from the Principal's pen

The STAAR is just around the corner. There are mixed feelings about the state assessments.

Some people are nervous.

A small few are excited.

There are even some who don't care.

No matter where you fall in your emotions, the tests will be here soon. How should you approach them?

Be bold and courageous! It is just a test! Your teachers have been preparing you for this moment. You will be successful!

These next few weeks are going to be a perfect time for you to work on your skills. This will be the time to ask questions and learn more about each subject.

This is NOT the time to rest or give up. Rest time was Spring Break. (And "giving up" should never be an option!)

All I ask of you is that you do your best. Strive for perfection. Those in life who strive for the highest goals usually end up better than most. And no matter how it turns out, remember, Mr. Wilson is your biggest fan!

MATH IN EVERYDAY LIFE

Banking

Imagine a life without a bank to guide you in your finances such as savings and alike. This only goes to show that Math, whether you may have loathed it once in your life when you're still a student, is something that you'll actually be thankful for because it's maybe one of the lifehacks you should know as you get older.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

PRE-K WITH DR. SEUSS CRAFT

THIS WEEK IN HISTORY

On March 23rd during a speech before the second Virginia Convention, Patrick Henry responded to the increasingly oppressive British rule over the American colonies by declaring, "I know not what course others may take, but as for me, give me liberty or give me death!" Following the signing of the American Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776, Patrick Henry was appointed governor of Virginia by the Continental Congress. www.history.com

SCIENCE FUN FACT

The spring equinox marks the astronomical beginning of spring in the Northern Hemisphere. The balance of daylight shifts, marking the start of warmer, longer days. In the Southern Hemisphere, it marks the start of autumn. Equinox means "equal night".

AG NEWS

Students joined their first Build Off, building a bench from a blueprint using square tubing and C-Purlin. They faced challenges with thin materials and repeated 45-degree cuts but pushed through. Each student received a $500 scholarship to the Ocean Corporation and another $500 to Lincoln Tech, adding to their totals as they attend more events.
