Re: Request for Investigation and Prosecution

Dear Director Wray and Special Agent Brunner:

On behalf of Mat Wahlstrom, I am requesting that you investigate and prosecute Todd Gloria, a representative of California's 78th Assembly District and a candidate for Mayor of the City of San Diego, for violations of the wire-fraud and/or mail-fraud statutes, 18 U.S.C. §§ 1341 and 1343.

In short, my client believes that Mr. Gloria knowingly, fraudulently, and illegally created a campaign committee for the purpose of raising money for a California Assembly Seat for which he never intended to run.

Enclosed with this letter are articles published by La Prensa San Diego on August 12 and 13, 2019, and another published by Times of San Diego on August 13, 2019. In essence, even though Mr. Gloria has formally been running for Mayor of the City of San Diego since December 2018, he established a separate campaign committee on February 20, 2019 – known as “Todd Gloria for Assembly 2020” – ostensibly for re-election to the Assembly. (A copy of the committee's statement of organization is enclosed, along with two subsequent amendments thereto.)

California's Political Reform Act (PRA) is the law that governs state campaign finances. One of the PRA's purposes is making sure not only that “[r]eceipts and expenditures in election campaigns [are] fully and truthfully disclosed in order that the voters may be fully informed and improper practices may be inhibited,” but also that “[l]aws and practices unfairly favoring incumbents [are] abolished in order that elections may be conducted more fairly.” Gov't Code § 81002(a) & (e). “All contributions deposited into the campaign account shall be deemed to be held in trust for expenses associated with the election of the candidate or for expenses associated with holding office.” Gov't Code § 89510(b). It is illegal for any candidate to solicit or receive contributions without first filing a declaration of intent to run for re-election, known as Form 501, “under penalty of perjury.” Gov't Code § 85200. It is also illegal for any candidate to spend campaign money on a non-political purpose and for any incumbent to spend campaign money unrelated to a legislative or governmental purpose. Gov't Code § 89512(a). All expenditures conferring a substantial personal benefit "shall be directly related to a political, legislative, or governmental purpose." Id.

Mr. Gloria has never intended to run for re-election to the Assembly in 2020. When a reporter for Times of San Diego tweeted his story about Mr. Gloria filing on August 13 to run for re-election, Mr. Gloria's campaign manager and publicly paid Assembly communications director, Nick Serrano, replied: "Nothing has changed, Ken. Todd is running for Mayor." The reply is entirely consistent with Mr. Gloria's website, Facebook page, and Twitter account, all of which promote his Mayoral candidacy without any mention of any candidacy for re-election to the Assembly. (Copies of the tweet, reply, and his website and social-media accounts are also enclosed, along with Mr. Serrano's Twitter page describing himself as "Communications Director" for Mr. Gloria in the Assembly and as "Campaign Manager, @ToddGloria for Mayor.")

Withering under press scrutiny about which office he is running for, Mr. Gloria took to Twitter late yesterday afternoon – just one day after filing Form 501 under penalty of perjury for re-election to the Assembly – and confirmed that his Assembly 2020 committee was fraudulent from the start. Adding his own emphasis, he tweeted: "Some news reports have suggested that I am seeking re-election to the Assembly. I want to be very clear: I am not running for the Assembly, I am running for Mayor." Not long after that, San Diego City Attorney Mara Elliott, who heads one of the potential prosecuting agencies for Mr. Gloria's state-law violations and who formally endorsed him for Mayor a couple months ago, "liked" his tweet. (Copies of the tweet and the "like" are enclosed.)

As noted above, Mr. Gloria filed his Form 501 for re-election to the Assembly under penalty of perjury on August 13, 2019, and disavowed the assertions therein the same day (through Mr. Serrano) and again one day later (through his own tweet). However, through June 30, 2019, he received multiple contributions for an office he has never been running for, including one from Deloitte Services LP in Hermitage, Tennessee; presumably it was transmitted by the postal service, a commercial courier, or electronically via interstate lines. Similarly, through that date he made numerous expenditures for an office he has never been running for, including one to Safeguard Business Systems (in Chicago, Illinois), one to Kamala Harris for the People (in Washington, DC), one to The Gemini Group (in Williamsburg, VA), and several to Southwest Airlines (in Dallas, Texas); presumably they too were transmitted through interstate channels. (A copy of his disclosure report is enclosed.)

Some of the expenditures also appear to have no direct relationship to any political, legislative, or governmental purpose related to his fraudulent re-election campaign. For example, Mr. Gloria paid $500 to Mr. Serrano as a consultant to an Assembly campaign that was never being run; Mr. Serrano's Twitter homepage mentions his job for Mr. Gloria in the Assembly and as "Campaign Manager, @ToddGloria for Mayor" but never mentions any re-election campaign. Mr.

Messrs. Wray and Brunner
August 15, 2019

Gloria recorded multiple expenditures for "staff" meetings "w/ Candidate" even though he was not a declared candidate for re-election at the time of the expenditures and still insists, despite filing a Form 501 under penalty of perjury two days ago, that he is not a candidate for re-election; if there is no "candidate," there can be no campaign and therefore no campaign "staff." Mr. Gloria even reported "information technology costs" paid to The Gemini Group for the non-existent re-election campaign. (See the same enclosed disclosure report and the enclosed copy of Mr. Serrano's Twitter homepage.)

My client does not take the concerns raised in this letter lightly, and he takes no pleasure in having to report what he has observed to your agency. However, he is very concerned about the integrity of the electoral process in California.

If you have any questions or need additional information, please do not hesitate to contact my office.

Sincerely,

David E. Kenney, Esq.

Todd Gloria Failed to File Candidacy Form Before Raising Money

August 12, 2019

By Alberto Garcia

State Assemblyman Todd Gloria, a candidate for San Diego Mayor, may have violated state law by failing to file his intention to run for re-election to the State Assembly before raising over $300,000 in a campaign committee at the same time he's been running and raising money for San Diego Mayor.

A campaign committee, Todd Gloria for Assembly 2020, was created in March of this year when Gloria transferred $293,078.05 that remained in his 2018 Assembly campaign committee after the November 2018 election.

State law requires that all candidates file a Form 501 Candidate Intention Statement declaring their candidacy for election or re election before any money can be raised for a campaign committee, even if it's the candidate's own money.

According to the California Secretary of State's office, there was no Form 501 on file for Todd Gloria for Assembly 2020 as of the end of day on August 8th.

Under state law, Gloria had to empty and close out the 2018 committee by the end of March or the money would become "surplus" and subject to strict limits to donate the money to charity. Gloria instead transferred the money to the new Assembly 2020 committee and closed out the Assembly 2018 committee on March 19th.

The June 30th report for the Assembly 2020 campaign committee reflects contributions of $25,246, plus the nearly $300,000 he transferred from the 2018 committee. Those contributions have all come from special interests, including Native American tribes, new car dealers, an apartment association, and lobbying groups for chiropractors and firefighters, and one contribution from State Treasurer Fiona Ma's 2020 re election campaign. No individual contributions were reported. The committee ended the June period with $275,122.24 cash on hand.

Since March, Gloria has spent $44,246.32 from that committee, including donating to other campaigns and organizations. Gloria donated $5,000 to the San Diego Democratic Party; a maximum $4,700 contribution to Councilman Chris Ward's 2020 Assembly campaign to replace Gloria; $1,500 to the Climate Action Campaign; $1,000 to Kamala Harris' Presidential campaign; and $1,037.50 to reimburse Lorena Gonzalez' Assembly campaign for delegate breakfast at the recent Democratic Party convention, among other expenditures.

At the time the 2020 Assembly committee was created, Gloria was already a declared candidate for San Diego Mayor and was raising money for a separate committee, Todd Gloria for Mayor 2020.

Gloria filed a 501 form with the San Diego City Clerk on December 20, 2018 declaring his candidacy for Mayor before raising money for that campaign.

At the end of June, Gloria reported having raised a total of $656,108.28 for the 2020 San Diego Mayor's campaign since January 1st, and ended the period with $474,735.49 cash on hand.

Gloria's mayoral campaign received the endorsement of California Governor Gavin Newsom last week, in addition to several Assembly members, including locals Lorena Gonzalez Fletcher and Shirley Weber, as well as Congress members Juan Vargas and Susan Davis.

A call to Todd Gloria's cell phone for comment was returned by Nick Serrano, Gloria's Communications Director in the Assembly who currently serves as campaign manager. Serrano appears to have received a $500 payment from Gloria's mayor campaign committee in March, as well as $6,500 in payments from Gloria's 2020 Assembly committee between February and June of this year. Serrano said he would pass the message on to Gloria.

No comments were received from Gloria at the time this story was released.

Councilman Chris Ward, running to replace Gloria in the Assembly, filed his own 501 form for the Assembly before beginning to raise money in January. Ward's 2020 Assembly committee reported having raised a total of $284,393.27 through June 30th. Ward received a contribution of $4,700 from Gloria's 2020 Assembly committee.

Candidates do not usually donate money to other candidates running for the same office, but it is not clear if Ward knew whether or not Gloria intended to run for the Assembly before he declared his own candidacy for the same seat.

Gloria donated $4,700 to Ward's campaign on March 27, just eight days after Gloria created his 2020 Assembly committee.

A message for comment left on Ward's cell phone was not returned when this story was published.

The California Political Reform Act, which requires the 501 form be filed before raising money, states that knowing or willful violations are misdemeanors, punishable by up to a year in jail and a $1,000 fine. Additionally, a fine of $10,000, or three times the amount which was improperly received, may be assessed.

A violation of the filing requirement may be prosecuted by the California Attorney General, the District Attorney, the elected City Attorney, or through a civil lawsuit called a Private Attorney General action.

Local attorney Cory Briggs, a frequent critic of San Diego's leadership and a current candidate for City Attorney, refused to comment on the issue so he wouldn't create a possible conflict of interest.

"The press and the public must remember that everyone is entitled to a presumption of innocence until proven guilty in a court of law," Briggs said. "If I am elected as City Attorney, this matter could fall within my prosecutorial purview so it would therefore be inappropriate for me to make any comment," Briggs concluded.

Current San Diego City Attorney Mara Elliott has endorsed Gloria's campaign for Mayor.

Todd Gloria, a candidate for San Diego Mayor, currently serves in the California Assembly representing parts of the City of San Diego, including Downtown, North Park, Balboa Park, and all the beach communities.

A story posted Monday on La Prensa San Diego's website raised the issue that Gloria may have violated state law by failing to file his intention to run for re-election to the State Assembly before raising over $300,000 in a campaign committee, while at the same time running and raising money for his campaign for San Diego Mayor.

State law requires that a "candidate for state or local office must file this form for each election, including reelection to the same office" and "before you solicit or receive any contributions or before you make expenditures" from that campaign.

According to the California Secretary of State's office, there was no Form 501 on file for Todd Gloria for Assembly 2020 as of the end of day on August 12.

Nick Serrano, Gloria's Communications Director in the Assembly who currently serves as campaign manager, communicated with La Prensa on Monday, August 12, and took questions for Gloria about the missing form. No response to those questions have been received.

Instead, a Form 501 was signed by Gloria on Tuesday, August 13, and delivered to the Secretary of State in the morning.

The form announces Gloria's intention to seek re-election as a candidate for the Assembly's 78th District. The form is dated August, 13, 2019, and signed under penalty of perjury that it is true and correct.

Regina Geremia, from the California Secretary of State's Political Reform Division, confirmed she received the form in her office in Sacramento in the morning on August 13th.

No announcement was made as to the status of Gloria's campaign for Mayor.

He instead transferred the money to the new Assembly 2020 committee and closed out the Assembly 2018 committee on March 19, allowing him to raise money at the state's $4,700 contribution limit instead of the San Diego Mayor limits of $1,150.

The June 30th report for the Assembly 2020 campaign committee shows campaign contributions of $25,246, plus the nearly $300,000 he transferred from the 2018 committee. Those contributions have all come from special interests, including $5,150 from Native American tribes, $3,000 from new car dealers, $1,500 from an Orange County apartment association, $4,800 from lobbying groups for chiropractors, veterinarians, and firefighters, and one $2,500 contribution from State Treasurer Fiona Ma. At the time the 2020 Assembly committee was created, Gloria was already a declared candidate for San Diego Mayor and was raising money for a separate committee, Todd Gloria for Mayor 2020.

Councilman Chris Ward, running to replace Gloria in the Assembly, filed his own 501 form for the Assembly before beginning to raise money in January. Ward's 2020 Assembly committee reported having raised a total of $284,393.27 through June 30th. Ward received a contribution of $4,700 from Gloria's 2020 Assembly committee.

Gloria donated $4,700 to Ward's campaign on March 27, just eight days after Gloria created his 2020 Assembly committee.

La Prensa San Diego asked Chris Ward if he believed Gloria was also running for the Assembly when he himself filed to run back in January, whether he would keep the contribution received from Gloria's Assembly 2020 campaign committee, and whether he would continue to run even after Gloria's declaration as a candidate today.

"I am running strong for the AD78 race in 2020, I appreciate Todd's endorsement and support, and all funds to my campaign were lawfully received and fully reported," Ward wrote in response to several questions.

State Law Requirements

The California Political Reform Act, which requires the 501 form be filed before raising money, states that knowingly or willfully violations of any provision of the Act is a misdemeanor, punishable by up to a year in jail and a $1,000 fine. Additionally, a fine of $10,000, or three times the amount which was improperly received, may be assessed.

If Gloria mistakenly failed to file the 501 form in January, and intended to run for re-election to the Assembly, his recent filing may be accepted by the Fair Political Practices Commission as a late filing.

There are several warning letters issued to campaigns by the FPPC in recent years where candidates failed to file a 501 before raising money then subsequently did complete their filings. No fines were assessed in those cases.

However, there are no FPPC letters listed on the website that deal with candidates that failed to file a 501 and never actually ran for that seat, or filed to run for two different races at the same time. A request for comment from the FPPC's legal advice office was not answered.

A violation of the Political Reform Act may first be investigated by the Fair Political Practices Commission, but a violation can also be prosecuted by the California Attorney General, the District Attorney, or the elected City Attorney of San Diego.

If no action is taken against a violator after 120 days of being reported, a civil lawsuit can be filed by any citizen in the City in what is called a Private Attorney General action to enforce the law.

A request for comment sent to San Diego City Attorney Mara Elliott's office was not returned by the time this story was published. Mara Elliott has endorsed Gloria's campaign for Mayor.

Attorney Cory Briggs, a candidate for City Attorney, refused to comment in order to prevent a potential conflict of interest.

"The press and the public must remember that everyone is entitled to a presumption of innocence until proven guilty in a court of law," Briggs said. "If I am elected as City Attorney, this matter could fall within my prosecutorial purview so it would therefore be inappropriate for me to make any comment," Briggs concluded.

Four days after declaring that "I am absolutely running for mayor of San Diego," Assemblyman Todd Gloria filed paperwork Tuesday morning to seek re-election in his San Diego district.

Gloria signed the Form 501 "candidate intention statement" dated Aug. 13. Under "Office Sought" is typed "Assemblymember State of California."

But the development appears to be fallout from an issue raised by Councilwoman Barbara Bry — his main rival — during her closing statement Friday in a mayoral debate at San Diego City College.

Bry noted the existence of a fundraising committee Gloria set up for the 2020 Assembly race and asked: "Mr. Gloria, I want to know what office you are running for."

He didn't respond on stage, but told Times of San Diego afterward that the committee was part of his Assembly majority whip role to raise money for fellow Democrats in Sacramento and beyond.

On Twitter Tuesday night, Gloria spokesman Nick Serrano said: "Nothing has changed, Ken. Todd is running for Mayor." He didn't respond to questions about the 501 filing.

On Monday, however, Alberto Garcia of La Prensa San Diego — the largest local Hispanic newspaper — reported that Gloria may have violated state law by failing to file his intention to run for re-election before raising over $300,000 for his Assembly committee.

"State law requires that all candidates file a Form 501 Candidate Intention Statement declaring their candidacy for election or re-election before any money can be raised for a campaign committee, even if it's the candidate's own money," La Prensa said.

In further reporting Tuesday, La Prensa said Gloria's 501 filing for re-election to the Assembly was hand delivered to the Secretary of State's Office the morning after the paper posed questions to Gloria's campaign manager about the missing form.

A spokesman for the state Fair Political Practices Commission said Monday that no complaints had been filed about Gloria's Assembly 2020 committee.

The spokesman, Jay Wierenga, told Times of San Diego that it's "quite common" for people to have two fundraising committees.

"The most common is that an incumbent candidate would have an open committee for the office he/she holds and one for an election to a different office," he said.

Wierenga wouldn't comment on Gloria's case specifically but said: "It's perfectly fine to have two committees as long as they are for what they say they are and proper recordkeeping/reporting is being done."

Also Monday, veteran San Diego political consultant Tom Shepard explained why Bry didn't raise the issue until the last moments of the debate — when Gloria couldn't respond.

"She anticipated the issue would be the subject of a question during the debate," Shepard said via email. "Since it didn't come up, she added it to her closing remarks."

Shepard said there was nothing technically illegal about Gloria establishing the account, but "it raises several ethical issues and one potential Political Reform Act violation.

"We haven't been able to find any record that he filed a Form 501 Declaration of Candidacy Form for the 2020 Assembly race, which is required before a candidate-controlled committee can begin raising funds," he noted. "If confirmed, this would be a violation of the Political Reform Act and could taint funds raised and expended by the 2020 committee."

What did Bry hope to gain by noting the Assembly 2020 issue?

Shepard, a strategist for her campaign, said: "I don't think most San Diego voters want Sacramento special interests helping finance a candidate for mayor, nor would they support an attempt by a mayoral candidate to circumvent the city's campaign finance ordinance."

Todd Gloria's candidate intention statement for 78th Assembly District race. (PDF)

He added: "You can clearly see in Gloria's 2020 Assembly committee campaign report that money has been paid to state legislators' campaign committees and subsequently these legislators endorsed his candidacy for mayor. [The committee] also made expenditures for items that are not related to legitimate Assembly-related activities."

Shepard said he fully anticipated that Gloria would run for mayor.

“But if he is concerned with transparency, compliance with local campaign finance laws and independence from Sacramento special interests, it’s a bad way to start his campaign,” he said.

Grateful to have the endorsement of my colleague and a phenomenal representative for North County, Assemblymember Tasha Boerner Horvath! Regional collaboration is an essential part to making real progress on the issues we face as a city. I know we can do more by working together, and that's what I intend to do as Mayor of San Diego. #ForAllOfUs
