A film history presentation by John LeGear from TimComm.com in suburban Chicago

Elvis Presley was a pioneer of the American music industry in the mid-1950s, as enigmatic in his day as was Bing Crosby in the 1940s or The Beatles during the 1960s. Elvis had it all: good looks, a distinctive style, a passion for his craft, and an utterly beautiful voice. And he put them all together like no one else in history.

We decided to focus on the first half of his Elvis's 23-year career in show business, beginning in 1954. We strived to capture his natural joy of doing what he did better than anyone else.

You may also notice that we've made every effort to split the screen between Elvis and his leading ladies. Elvis would have liked that. Enjoy the movie music of Elvis Presley.
