A film history presentation by John LeGear from TimComm.com in suburban Chicago

Since the mid-1990s communications counselor and lay historian John LeGear cobbled together hundreds of film compilations from outstanding movies and put them to accompanying music.

Then in 2024, LeGear scoured his collection for hidden gems, carefully manicured film compositions that have rotated in and out of his “movie music” presentations over the years. That effort brought about “Songs of the Silver Screen,” an 80-minute presentation that cuts a wide swath through 100 years of film, music, romance and comedy.

Please join us for this live presentation of a lyrical tour through the decades to remember some of the most magnificent songs and dances of our lifetime.
