A film history presentation by John LeGear from TimComm.com in suburban Chicago

An eclectic film history presentation

Over the course of 25 years, former journalist and film editing hobbyist John LeGear cobbled together hundreds of film compilations and put them to music.

Early in 2024, LeGear scoured his collection in search of what could be called “one-offs,” carefully manicured film clips that either didn’t quite fit into the show he was crafting at the time, or were simply more than what could be squeezed into the show for which they were intended. What LeGear found was a veritable gold mine, dozens of music-driven film compilations that are sure to captivate adult audiences of all ages.

Please join us for a live presentation--either in-person or remotely via Zoom—to tour through a century of outstanding films and memorable music.
