

CHRISTA MCCRORIE, LICSW PIP

I am an experienced Licensed Independent Clinical Social Worker in Birmingham, Alabama, and founder of Creative Therapeutic Solutions, LLC. I provide individual, group, and family counseling, case and program consultations, social work supervision, along with psycho-educational training and material creation. I am passionate about helping those with a variety of challenges, but have specific experience with children, teens, and young adults struggling with LGBTQ+ issues, sexual behavior problems, trauma, attachment disorders, and problems that have received intervention in the past with no success. I bring creativity and energy into my work, and my clients know me as a reliable and trusted practitioner. How can I help you see your life a little differently today?

HOW CAN WE HELP YOU
SEE YOUR LIFE A LITTLE DIFFERENTLY TODAY?

OUR SERVICES

FAMILY COUNSELING

Improve your family's communication, conflict resolution, and relationships by meeting together in a safe space to discuss problems. Our focus is to help you and your family think creatively about patterns of behavior, and find better ways to make your family stronger.

INDIVIDUAL COUNSELING

Meet with us one-on-one in a compassionate and confidential environment. We are here to listen and explore your feelings, beliefs, behaviors, challenging memories, struggles, and desires. Let's work together to think about life a little differently and make positive change.

GROUP COUNSELING

Socialize with others with similar challenges and find strength in numbers on your path towards change. Scheduled sessions are led by an experienced therapist to encourage positive conversation and a safe environment.
