

10
YEARS OF

WHAT I'VE LEARNED

Esquire

The Meaning of Life

MAN AT HIS BEST

MICHAEL J. FOX
TRIUMPH

A DECADE OF WISDOM & DAMN GOOD ADVICE FROM THE LIKES OF DEPP NICHOLSON CLAPTON PACINO ROSEANNE

Esquire NORTH

Lower Terrace

DESIGNED BY ROBIN WILSON FOR ROCKPORT

If you can ever look away from the view, there's a chair up here from the Bent Tree, a Missouri furniture company, that was made by training trees to grow in particular shapes. Some become the arms, others the back, and others form the base. Ours took three and a half years to grow and cost $1,000. There's also a professional-grade putting green, but it's maddeningly tough. I made one putt. All weekend.

JANUARY 2008
www.esquire.com

$3.99

