Clare

In 2018, interior designer Nicole Gibbons decided to launch a paint startup that would disrupt the traditional paint industry. Instead of hundreds of paint chips to sort through, she narrowed down the selection to 56 designer-curated colors. And rather than paint swatches, Clare sends repositionable adhesive swatches so you can test the color in several spots. Did we mention each can of paint (plus brushes and trays) is shipped right to your door? You'll never go to the paint store again.
