

Marshall Bryant

Candidate Position: Southern Regional Rep

What motivated you to run for office within our organization? Can you share the specific goals or ideals that drove you to take on this leadership role?

Having enjoyed working and serving patients over the past 25 years, I have always understood the impact RT's have on outcomes for countless patients and their families. The GSRC has always been an instrument for education that directly impacts how RTs are able to improve the lives of those they serve. It is my goal to continue to serve in the GSRC to not only further promote our profession, but to also facilitate awareness and access to quality education within our profession. My goal is always to serve our profession in the best way possible.

What do you believe are the key challenges or opportunities within our organization that prompted you to seek a position in office? How do you envision addressing these issues if elected?

Currently the GSRC has so much potential to bring more RTs together to galvanize our profession throughout Georgia and serve as a guiding light for other states. We have put together very well organized and educational meetings, but we have had some struggles with attendance. With more directed attention to conversations within the hospital with Respiratory leadership, I feel strongly that we can improve our attendance and increase the support for our organization. This in turn will foster an environment where the GSRC can create more opportunities for growth in Georgia and better serve RTs as a whole.
