The Coalition for Literacy is a non-profit organization that is wholly dedicated to the promotion of youth literacy. The value of achieving literacy at an early age cannot be underestimated, as it impacts all aspects of a child's development. Children can become frustrated when they are unable to read or write, and that frustration impacts not only their education, but also their interactions with friends and family.

The Coalition for Literacy provides support and funding for one-on-one tutoring in elementary schools. Children who need individualized attention get the tools they need without the stress of doing so surrounded by their peers. By improving students' skills as well as their confidence, they are better prepared for a successful future.

The Coalition for Literacy focuses on helping individual children, which benefits their families, their schools, and their communities. Literacy is a crucial element of a prosperous society, and these children will be poised to take advantage of the educational and employment opportunities that come their way.

The Coalition for Literacy is proud to play a role in advancing the cause of literacy, and any support is greatly appreciated. If you would like to help, please consider contacting your local library. Most libraries are grateful for donations of old books and have plenty of volunteer opportunities.
