A GUIDE TO THE MARRIAGE RECORDS

The earliest surviving marriage records from St. Michael's Catholic Church in Soufflenheim, 118 total, are found in series 3E472/3 at the Archives of Bas-Rhin. The records begin in January of 1743 and continue through January of 1754. They are described by the Archives as a "damaged register". There is no image of the ledger cover. The first three pages are blank. The 4th page, on image 2, has deteriorated and is largely illegible. The final page in the ledger is 483, followed by a blank page, which appears to be the inside of the back cover. The records were originally microfilmed in Strasbourg on August 13, 1970 for the Genealogical Society of Salt Lake City.

The image and page number of the first record of each year (page 320 determined by counting back from page 330):

Missing Pages

- Pages 351-362 missing: May 11, 1745 to early February 1746
- Pages 343-346 missing: Last week of January 1745
- Pages 389-390 missing: End of January 1747 through early February
- Pages 462-465 missing: February, March, and April of 1752

Missing Records

Approximately 22 pages of records totaling 12 months are missing. Several missing pages contain parts of known records, leaving about 15 pages of unknown records. Assuming 1.5 pages per record, approximately 10 marriage records have been lost, plus those, if any, prior to the earliest record in the ledger.

*Partial Records

Seven partial records, their pages missing or badly faded, were reconstructed as much as possible using other sources. Mark Drexler comments:

- January 1743, Michael Guttmann and Anna Stickelreisser

This is the first visible record in the register, and it is only partial and is badly damaged. The first part of the record (with the date) does not exist. The subsequent record is dated 22 January 1743. There is little visible description of the groom. Multiple visible instances of 'Wiersheim' suggest Weyersheim as his place of origin, and the name 'Michael Gu...' (or possibly Gutt...) can be seen at the top of the signature block, where the groom's signature would be expected. The Weyersheim records include an authorization, dated 16 January 1743 (p.127/235), for Michael Guttmann's marriage in Soufflenheim. His parents were named as Andreas Guttmann, deceased, and Maria Ullrich; and his intended bride Anna Stuckelreiser, daughter of Jacob Stuckelreiser. There is a substantial collection of records showing that the parents of Michael Guttmann's wife Anna were Jacob Stickelreisser and Odilia Metz, and these names, can be seen on the partial marriage record (Odilia Metz shown as deceased).

- 11 May 1745, Mathias Seidenspinner and Maria Catharina Mosser

The beginning of the record is on Page 350 and the following page is missing. The record shows neither the groom's nor bride's name, but it does indicate that one of them is from Fort Louis. The Fort Louis marriage records appear complete in that time frame, and the only possible corresponding record, dated 2 May 1745, is authorization for Matthiam Seidenspinner to marry Maria Catharina Moser in Sufflum. None of the parents were named in that record. The estate inventories of Lorentz Mosser, dated 25 September 1752 and 10 April 1755, along with his marriage record of 12 August 1749, adequately establish that the bride's parents were Lorentz Mosser and Magdalena Schultz.

- February 1746, Michael Sensenbrenner and Maria Anna Burger

Page 362 of the register is missing, eliminating the beginning of the record with the date and the names of groom and bride (and identification of their parents). Page 363 has the end of the record, including the legible signatures of groom Michael Sensenbrenner and bride Maria Anna Burger. According to their marriage contract dated 4 February 1746, Michael Sensenbrenner was the son of Michael Sensenbrenner and Anna Maria Guth, both deceased, and Maria Anna Burgert was the daughter of Jacob Burgert and Christina Helm (Halm).

- February 1747, Dominicus Lehmann and Anna Maria Stoltz

Page 389 of the register is missing, eliminating the beginning of the record with the date, the name of the groom, and the identification of his father. The first line on page 390 names the groom's deceased mother, Catharina Schied (Schutt). The groom's signature is that of Dominic Lehmann. This is adequate, in view of a substantial set of records of Catharina Schutt's husband and children, to allow identification of Dominic Lehmann's father as Andreas Lehmann, weaver. The bride's information is complete in this partial record. The record date is an estimate; the subsequent record is dated 13 February 1747.

- 31 January 1752, Antonius Lehmann and ?

The first part of the record is on page 461 of the register; page 462 is missing. This record shows that Antoni was a weaver and that his father Andreas Lehmann was a weaver, and that his mother was deceased. We understand that this was Antoni's first marriage because he was identified with his parents. This is all consistent with Antoni's mother having been Catharina Schutt, an idea supported by several known records. No other possibility is supported by known records. It further appears probable that this marriage was to Veronica Estreicher (daughter of Lorentz Estreicher and Veronica Brohamer); this is supported by baptism records of the children of Antoni Lehmann and Veronica Estreicher beginning in 1754. No known record refutes this, but no known record provides direct proof.

- February 1752, Jacob Mary and Barbara Zettwuch

The first part of this marriage record (with the date, groom's name, and his parents' identities) is missing. The record was written during the period of 31 January through 2 May 1752 (missing register pages). A marriage contract for this couple was dated 8 February 1752, according to the estate inventory of Jacob Mary (dated 25 September 1765). The second part of the record (on register page 466) shows that the groom's parents are both deceased. The groom's signature is that of Jacob Mary. The bride's information is complete. The presence of two Mary witnesses (Joseph Mary, farmer, and Frantz Mary, blacksmith in Fort Louis) does not easily lead to discovering Jacob's parents.

- January 1754, Anton Bitschi and Catharina Wilhelm

This is the last marriage record in the earliest register. It is mostly unreadable, and only the first portion is present. Although the date cannot be seen, it seems likely to be soon after the preceding record's date of 7 January 1754. The identities of the groom's parents, Erasmi Bitsc_, farmer, and Theresia Geissler, are visible; as is the name Catharina Wilhelm, in a position indicative of the bride's name. A marriage contract, referenced in Catherina Wilhelm's estate inventory of 23 March 1785, is dated 10 January 1754, and describes her as widow of deceased Peter Strack. A substantial collection of other records support this record being the marriage of Anton Bitschi and Catharina Wilhelm.

Authorization Records and Locations

A bride or groom "authorization" is for an intended marriage. The date is the "authorization" date, not the marriage date, which is listed in brackets. Locations are listed with their modern spelling.

Standardization of Surnames found in the Soufflenheim Records

Mark Drexler, June 2023

The surnames of the bride and groom in this index have been standardized. Surname standardization allows reliable and thorough alphabetical sorting of an index, keeping all instances of any particular surname in a single group. This effectively removes most usability challenges that otherwise arise from the abundant variant spellings found in the original records. Alphabetizing an index using 'as-read' names frequently places related entries in widely disparate locations, requiring the user to know or imagine all possible places to look.

The standardized spellings were selected to be recognizable to the user trying to match another form (variant spelling) of a name, whether that form is found in an early record or is today's fixed spelling. Most of these selections are forms that had become the predominant spellings in Soufflenheim in the early 1800s, during an apparent trend toward spelling standardization. Several names were derived from the records in other villages where subject individuals originated. A few surnames only found in the earliest records (including notary records read and transcribed by an intermediary) were standardized without the benefit of later spellings. It should be noted that a few names encountered in the records were indexed (or included in comments sections) in their 'as-read' forms because no family connections were discovered.

The system of standardized names was well-studied but could not be made perfect. Several minor, tolerable, errors have been noticed and more likely exist; but serious errors should be reported. It is not always an error that causes the same name to represent 'unrelated' familial lines (and charting out one line is not prevented by the presence of another line). A more distracting potential error is assignment of subtly-different names to not-yet-connected branches of the same family. Perhaps evidence will surface to correct any such error made in these indexes.

Record indexes using this system of standardized spellings (developed for the index of civil-record Births) include the more recent indexes of church-record Marriages and Burials. All consistently apply standardized surnames to the subject individual(s); but can vary somewhat regarding relatives mentioned in comments sections. It is thought beneficial to expose the 'as-read' form of each surname, and this is typically done using a named relative. Surnames in parentheses are standardized forms, used where beneficial. The absence of diacritical marks in these indexes is noticeable, with rare exception, only in relatives' names. If it is necessary to know the exact nature of an original spelling, please consult an image of the original record.
