SOUFFLENHEIM MAYORS: 1368-1902

Schultheiss is generally translated as mayor or provost. The Schultheiss, appointed by the local overlord, was the senior village official, responsible for representing the population to the overlord.

According to Soufflenheim Une cité, which found its information in the town accounts, Hans Jacob Schaffter was mayor until 1699 and his son, Adam Schaffter, from 1700-1715. This contradicts information in numerous notary records describing Hans Jacob Schaffer as mayor until 1715.

Soufflenheim Une cité lists the mayor from 1764-1789, as Kieffer, no first name. Inventory records list Anton Kieffer as mayor from 1764-1784 and his son Michael Kieffer from 1785-1789.

The Heimbürger/Bürgermeister was another type of mayor with different responsibilities. They were elected by the burghers (legal citizens) of the village and served a one year term. Any burgher, whatever their profession, could be elected.

The Justice Council supported the mayor in the Justice Court of the village, which handled minor crimes (misdemeanors). Soufflenheim generally had 4 to 6 assistant magistrates (Justice Counselors). Their names are mentioned in notary records.

MAYORAL FAMILIES

The Schaeffter and Kieffer families were the most active in the administration of Soufflenheim prior to the French Revolution. In addition to serving as Provosts and Burgermeisters, many served on the Justice Council.

Schaeffter Family Mayors

All mayors named Schaeffter are related. All are descended from Hans Heinrich Schaeffter. They held the senior political position of Schultheiss continuously from 1658 (and probably earlier) to 1736.

Name	Mayor (Schultheiss/Provost)	Heimbürger Bürgermeister
Hans Heinrich Schaeffter	1658-1667

Hans Adam Schaeffter (Son of Hans Jacob Schaeffter)	1700-1728
Johann Jacob Schaeffter (Son of Hans Jacob Schaeffter)	1729-1736

Kieffer Family Mayors

All Kieffer mayors are related. All are descended from Hans Kieffer's son Lorentz, with the exception of Mathis Kieffer, Bürgermeister in 1762, who is descended from Hans Kieffer's son Jacob, a potter.

SOUFFLENHEIM POTTERS: 1694-1809

The production of pottery has always been an important activity in Soufflenheim and can be traced back to the second millennium BC. According to Soufflenheim une cite about 60 families lived in Soufflenheim in 1680, about 65 in 1693, and about 94 families in 1701, and that nine potters are mentioned (not named) several times from 1689 to 1701. The nine potters and their families would have been 10-15 percent of the population during the second half of the 17th century.

Town Accounts

There is little mention of potters in the town accounts. According to Soufflenheim Une Cite "The 1689 Town Account says that nine potters paid 30 sous each to extract potter's clay" and that from 1696 to 1701 "potters were arrested for having taken potter's clay without paying the proper tax. At each time, nine potters are mentioned. So that just nine of them lived at this time in Soufflenheim".

The 1689 Town Accounts were checked and the names of the nine potters extracting potter's clay are not listed. They were also checked from the years 1696 to 1701 and the names of the nine potters arrested are not listed.

Documents

The earliest known potters are found in the notary records. Marriage records, which begin in 1743, list the occupation of the fathers of the bride and groom. Some of the fathers would have been born before 1700. Occupations are also listed in birth and baptism records.

Guild Records

According to Soufflenheim Une Cite there are documents from the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries about the "Schüsseldreher" (the pottery throwers) of Soufflenheim. Soufflenheim potters were presumably part of the Confraternity of Potters, created in 1622, as no one could make or sell pottery in Alsace without being part of this organization. The archives at Strasbourg has no guild records from the 17th and 18th centuries for potters or other professions in Soufflenheim.

SOUFFLENHEIM INNKEEPERS: 1660-1788

Soufflenheim inns and innkeepers prior to 1790 are primarily mentioned in notary records. All are listed as innkeeper or inn landlord, sometimes as the owner. The descriptions bartender, waiter, waitress, cook, employee of, working at, manager, etc. have not found. The 1701 capitation tax mentions servants.
