"The Kingdom of Heaven is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field; which indeed is smaller than all seeds. But when it is grown, it is greater than the herbs, and becomes a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in its branches."

Pastor's Message

Dear faith family,

Today the sun is shining through my home office window and that is cheering me up considerably. January has seemed to be a particularly long month but we are nearing the end of this lockdown. Many colleagues in leadership roles are suffering from "coping fatigue".

St. James is returning to in person worship on Feb 6 and they are holding their AGM on Feb 13. As I stay with them for that meeting, St. John's will not return to worship until Feb 20.

Enid Blackwell (chairperson) and I attended an Eastern Synod led Zoom discussion last night (Jan 25) with 88 participants across the ELCIC. The discussion was entitled "What's next for our church?" Synod and Seminary staff, Pastors and lay people were all part of the discussion. We looked at those issues that have changed our understanding of our local churches. Our social media and technical experts have allowed all to participate in worship, conversations, book discussions, Bible studies, meetings, and hearing "other presiders & preachers – all without being in the same location". In conclusion, these comments were made:

- we need to maintain ongoing resourcefulness,
- there is no going back to what we used to do,
- new ideas and possibilities are varied.

Both of our churches have Annual General Meetings coming up. Please think about this same question. "What's next for our church?" What is your vision for your faith community? What are we going to do this year? We celebrate that God has remained present with us in a different way, and we look forward to seeing where God's grace and love lead us next.

Thanks be to God

Prayer For Our Community

God, Lord of all creation, lover of life and of everything, please help us to love in our very small way what You love infinitely and everywhere. We thank You that we can offer just this one prayer and that will be more than enough, because in reality every thing and every one is connected, and nothing stands alone. To pray for one part is really to pray for the whole, and so we do. Help us each day to stand for love, for healing, for the good, for the diverse unity of the Body of Christ and all creation, because we know this is what You desire: as Jesus prayed, that all may be one. We offer our prayer together with all the holy names of God, we offer our prayer together with Christ, our Lord. Amen.

Worship Services in February

We plan to resume in-person worship at St. John's on Sunday, February 20, 10:30 a.m. This has been decided given current recommendations from our Re-opening Task Force and from Synod, and from counsel with our local public health unit. When we resume, safety procedures that we've become accustomed to will once again be in place:

- Welcoming roles (screening, attendance record, masks, physical distancing and hand sanitizing).
- Facilitated movement throughout the service (e.g. entry, Holy Communion, exit) and attention to safe distancing, sequential exiting and limited personal interaction within the building.
- Worshipers are encouraged to bring and keep with them a minimum of personal belongings.
- Hymnals used will be the new cranberry Evangelical Lutheran Worship books in the pews.

Pre-recorded, online worship will continue for February 6 and 13. See your emails, our website or our Facebook for links. For those of us without ready access to internet, please watch for hand delivery of printed services for 1 or both of these 2 Sundays.

We thank you again, Pastor Norine, producer Dave, readers and altar guild for your ongoing ministries in this preparation and broadcasting service.

We look forward to your presence Sunday, February 20 and onwards, and thank you for continued faithful support and safe participation in the congregation and community in varied ways. Should situations change between now and February 20, we will reassess the opening date and more communication will go out by email and by phone/by hand if needed.

Any questions, please contact Enid, 613 623-7017. We include below Bishop Michael's January 24, 2022 letter to all Eastern Synod parishes.

Message from Bishop Michael regarding COVID

January 24, 2022

Dear Colleagues,

When I communicated with you at the beginning of this month, it was my counsel that all churches across our synod should pause their in-person worship until the end of January. I was encouraged to see that the vast majority of congregations chose to do so. Thank you for your continued commitment to the health and well-being of your neighbours and communities. This is, indeed, an act of love.

As the regulations within our four provinces begin to lessen, with children returning to school and businesses re-opening, I would encourage you to extend the pause of in-person gatherings for an additional two weeks. This will allow time for the projected peak of the Omicron Variant, and for the public health effects of the lessening of restrictions to become better known. As such, should current trends continue, I would recommend that congregations wishing to resume in-person worship consider doing so with a February 20, 2022 target date. As always, please be sure to consult with your local public health for regulations specific to your region.

I, and my colleagues in the office, remain available to support you as we navigate the days ahead. We are in the early stages of planning a Synod Wide Pentecost service (more information will be available soon); and have scheduled a series of zoom meetings with rostered leaders in the days ahead. Additional opportunities for lay and rostered leaders to gather virtually for learning and conversation are also available.

I am cognizant of the fact that this recommendation will bring relief to some of you and consternation to others. You are, of course, free to either accept or disregard my counsel. I do, however, feel compelled to provide it to you and do so with love, prayers and all best wishes for your continued health and wellbeing and that of the communities with whom you serve. God's peace be with you! Bishop Michael Floral Thanks!

During Advent and Christmas season, December 2021 to January 2022, our sanctuary was beautified with many poinsettias. They added a feeling of warmth, colour and celebration to our in-person and online worship.

Thank you very much to those who made special contributions towards these flowers:

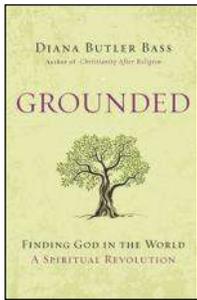

- Carol Ann Chippior and family – in memory of loved ones
- Gwen Steinke and family – in memory of Ed
- Floss Obst – in memory of loved ones

Creating!

How about these nifty, wooden cell phone holders Lorne Bretzloff is making? You're creative! Thanks, Lorne, for contributing your talent and time in COVID times to the Men's Shed. Remember, if you would like to share something special you've grown, made or learned in COVID times that's brought you joy, tell Dave. It's good to share joy in creation!

What We Don't Know. . . Often

Often, what we do or show, or say or think . . . or sing or pray! ripples out and we never know how it may have circled round or touched others.

But this past month, P+ Norine received the note below from someone named Janice who watched our January 16 service in another community. And so we do know! What a thoughtful and appreciative response, and good to hear, and so I share it on to you. (Below in italics.)

Thanks, Pastor Norine for bringing out new angles on this so human Mary/Jesus, mother/son relationship, and this story of noticing, naming, asking. (Wedding at Cana) And thank you, Dave, for making sure it went out in our community and well beyond, and for producing the other services each week. We are blessed!

Enid

Good morning, Norine

I wanted to let you know how much I enjoyed your service this week. Your sermon brought out so many of Jesus' human qualities which I always enjoy. I also loved how you got to the centre of Mary's and his mother/son relationship. (I could hear Him saying to her, "All right, Mom! Enough! I'm on a break here!!!"). Well done.

The videos of your hymns were excellent. I could have "driven" down the British country road all afternoon. Actually I watched it several times! England or Scotland in the spring. How lovely!

But the piece de resistance was This Little Light of Mine performed by Wesley Wuppets. What an ending! What a way to keep your congregation singing and smiling the rest of the day. Just terrific!!

So thank you, Pastor. It was all much enjoyed and appreciated.

Keep up the good work. :)

The Cowboy Boots

(Anyone who has ever dressed a child will love this)

Did you hear about the Texas teacher who was helping one of her kindergarten students put on his cowboy boots?

He asked for help and she could see why. Even with her pulling and him pushing, the little boots still didn't want to go on.

By the time they got the second boot on, she had worked up a sweat. She almost cried when the little boy said, "Teacher, they're on the wrong feet." She looked, and sure enough, they were.

It wasn't any easier pulling the boots off than it was putting them on. She managed to keep her cool as, together, they worked to get the boots back on, this time on the right feet.

He then announced, "These aren't my boots." She bit her tongue, rather than get right in his face and scream, "Why didn't you say so?", like she wanted to.

Once again she struggled to help him pull the ill-fitting boots off his little feet.

No sooner had they gotten the boots off when he said, "They're my brother's boots. My Mom made me wear'em".

Now she didn't know if she should laugh or cry. But she mustered up what grace and courage she had left to wrestle the boots on his feet again.

Helping him into his coat, she asked, "Now, where are your mittens?"

He said, "I stuffed 'em in the toes of my boots."

The Signature Behind the Wall

1947 - Some of us were around and some were not. The Second World War had ended just two years previously, and many were still trying to find their place in the world. Arnprior, McNab, and Braeside were growing. Young Eric Obst was helping build his sister Elsie's house. He was 15 years old and circumstance and the times had him out earning a wage, rather than continuing in formal schooling.

We all likely have an innate desire to leave our mark on this world, and Eric decided to do it literally: he wrote his name on the boards behind joists in the house. It was a sly gesture, he would know it was there, but no one else would. It would be hidden behind plaster, behind wallpaper and paint, and wall hangings, and the cloak of time. No one but Eric Obst would know until 2022. Kaitlin Pierce and her husband Dan Hubert were renovating the home, and, despite the solid construction, were able to expose the walls to find the signature of a young man at the start of his eventful life.

Eric Obst was born in Arnprior. Like a lot of us, he is the child of immigrants. His parents, after arriving from Germany, worked as indentured farm workers in Stewartville, but were able to eventually move closer to Arnprior. The Obsts, like many, lived on a very low income given the ravages of a depression and two horrible wars, but Eric never thought he was poor. "We had the fortune to have some pigs and chickens and that gave us food that a lot of town people could not afford." Eric recently recalled.

Eric found employment at Arnprior's "Cabinet Factory". The company did lots of specialty wood work, and eventually found a market in making cabinets for the new invention of television. By his own admission, Eric did not totally love working there, but one of his mentors advised him to hang in: "I can make a refinisher out of you young fella, and you never know where that can come in handy." He persevered, and he learned, and he became a refinisher and cabinet maker.

Time went on and Eric married and raised a family but that will be a story for another day. Eric left the Cabinet Factory. Eric and his brother Gordie opened up a garage. Time marched onwards. The government moved the highway. A garage not on the highway does not work. The garage closed. Things were looking gloomy.

But years previously, someone had said "I can make a refinisher out of you young fella and you never know where that can come in handy". So Eric went into the refinishing business for over three decades. Eric's speciality was working on refinishing woodwork in churches in the Ottawa Valley and beyond. In fact, the ash pews at St John's Lutheran were lovingly restored by Eric Obst.

Eric did a lot more for our church and our community than just work with wood, but again, that is a story for another day. In a few weeks the signature tag of the young Eric Obst will again be hidden. But it will still be there, waiting to be discovered maybe one day in the future. And when people in the Ottawa Valley attend worship in their own churches there is a good chance that they will see the skill of Eric Obst.

I made it! And now I get to run with Hoyt & Kaleigh. Onyx, 9 mo. old, and his first big snow-fall.

Now more than ever, we need to be able to offer each other grace.

- Grace for having different opinions.
- Grace for not always knowing the answer.
- Grace for making mistakes.
- Grace as we learn to do better.
- Grace for doing the best we can.

That's how we get through tough times like these—by lifting each other up, forgiving each other's humanness, and loving each other even when it's hard.
