

I AM

SCIENTIFICALLY THIS IS THE MOMENT OF CONSCIOUSNESS.

It is also the name God gave to Moses in answer to Pharaoh's question "Who sent you?" It is also what Freud called the subconscious ID, and Psychologists call Self Identification. It is the part of the psyche from which instinctive behavior arises. It is also what Freud called the conscious Ego.

I am, therefore I think.

René Descartes said, "I think therefore I am."

I look around and I see "I am, therefore I can let others think for me."

I've also learned that any actual intelligent conversation cannot take place in a public arena populated by non intellectual people. So I put my presence onto the public platform for anyone to find me for purpose of discourse on matters of origin, destiny and purpose of Life.

I feel confident in what I have learned in my 76 years on this planet, in this time frame. I am confident because after all that I've accumulated from both texts and experience, I have conclusion in this final incarnation of redemption through Jesus Christ. Since this is my final incarnation, and I am assured of my destination, there's no harm in revealing my true ID. I know Jesus the Messiah and He knows me because we were together in the beginning. I am a Watcher. I am one for whom Hell was created and reserved. And my destination is no longer that which I deserve. I can take my place among the righteous and everlasting Life.

That's a pretty big ego-trip but also very humbling. Why do people treat righteousness and being Holy as something evil? Self Righteous? Me? Yes! Who else will be righteous in my stead? Who can walk my path in my place? Being Righteous is a choice and it means doing what is right because it is right. And it is My choice. Do I think I'm better than others? Some. In the same way a law abiding citizen is better than an outlaw. But I am also worse than any human ever, for it was because of Me Hell was created and for me it was reserved.

I guarantee there will be no Atheists there. Not because it doesn't exist, but because they come face to face with the one they deny. I wish I could have walked the path of the religious, praising God publicly, but it would not have completed my Karma. I had to search and continue searching until I was able to piece together the entire mosaic from the clues left in the world. "What's it all about, Alfie?"

Who am I, where did I come from, where am I going? How can I be certain? I am 76 years of accumulating data through the senses embedded in this human body. Seeing, Hearing, Reading, Feeling, Tasting, Smelling, Touching, Thinking. I am man created from dust, albeit star dust. I have evolved through time and was created in the image of God. In likeness to God, in likeness of God therefore I Am.

I am also an animal evolved through time, with self-preservation instincts which sometimes control my actions as well as with preservation-of-species instincts which also can emerge when threatened, and I can react with raging carnivorous ferocity. Free will allows me to decide from which side of being human I make my journey. I choose the path of righteousness because it leads to Life. Without life, there is no awareness, without awareness there is nothing. It is the path of virtue, consciously doing what is right. But I am flawed, we are all flawed. It is our flaws that make us individually unique, not our similarities. I am only better than those who behave worse than I. And I can be as bad as anyone, I just choose not to be.

It is not Believing in God that gives one hope, it is Accepting His Son as your Lord, to serve just as you'd serve your country, by obedience to Him that makes the path of righteousness smooth to tread. For it is the whole purpose of Man to walk in righteousness. Live in righteousness, enjoy being alive, care for the Earth and all living things. And in this, Man has failed. Redemption is necessary. Seek the Lord Jesus diligently, fervently, earnestly and honestly, ask and he will reveal himself to you. Your window of opportunity is shrinking fast.
