

February 28, 2024

Bob Funkhouser N236MM

Robert and Executive Flight Services could not have been more perfect for my transition into my A-36. We ferried the plane to Chandler for the prebuy inspection specifically for Robert's insight and knowledge on the aircraft. The silver lining was Robert's knowledge and patience of letting me look over his shoulder and learn as he went through the aircraft. More than once, there was a "take a look at this", "do you see this?" etc with information on what I was seeing. This is unique in my experience, and he could have easily asked me to leave so he could get it done. His passion for the aircraft and those who fly it is evident and contagious. I went from nervous (zero-time A-36 pilot) to excited and comfortable.

Robert also spent time going over the avionic and systems in detail and well as a few hours of instruction. I found his instruction to be informative, patient and confidence building.

Although I am in Texas, I will try to schedule Robert for my BPPP as I know he will make me a safer, more competent pilot.

