Initial flight training in 1978 BE58P, N707MP, Danbury CT

Owner: Daniel Han

On the suggestion of a trusted mentor, I contacted Robert to provide my initial training on my new (to me) P-
Baron. The entire experience was top notch, and I highly recommend EFS -I'll certainly train with Robert again.

I had certainly expected valuable training, which Robert provided. However, I was very pleasantly surprised by several aspects of the EFS program, which I did not expect. First, Robert has a true passion for teaching, and an intellectual curiosity about all things aviation. He wanted to learn every detail about the plane as much as I did and went above and beyond to get all of my questions answered (including reaching out to prior shops to ask questions about prior installs). Each day, after we concluded our time together, he spent several hours doing more research to answer questions for the next day. Second, as an A&P, he not only provided key insights into the proper maintenance of the Baron, but also came to the rescue when some minor squawks popped up – which helped keep us right on schedule. Third, he provided me with numerous reference resources (including a customized checklist for my specific plane), which I did not expect. And all of our training was captured on video and provided to me after our flights. Lastly and perhaps most importantly, he made the entire experience enjoyable, but pushed me as well. I walked away from our time together with much more knowledge and practical application than I had expected. The entire experience was “five star” and was well worth the investment.
