Bridging the gap!

China and India have been neighbors since ancient times. Our influence over each other has been strong in ancient times. In the Modern era, we have demonstrated great economic influence in the western world. We have worked in becoming the 2nd largest and 3rd largest economy in terms of GDP (PPP). Chinese businesses have an intensive global presence in Europe, North America, Australia, Africa & South East Asia. Their presence in India is relatively limited. This is due to the reasons, limited market resource availability about India, unavailable local Indian partnership, found the market high risk-oriented and unfavorable government policies, etc. The major factor being is that there were only limited players assisting Chinese companies to expand operations and identify investment opportunities in India. The demand for foreign capital & resource in India is very huge and Chinese technology and FDI could be the solution to the problem.

合作中发展

中国和印度自古以来就是邻居。我们在古代对彼此的影响很大。在近代，双方在西方世界都显示了巨大的经济影响力。就国内生产总值 (PPP)而言，印度一直在致力于成为第二大或第三大经济体。中国目前企业在欧洲、北美、澳大利亚、非洲、东南亚有着广泛的全球业务，但在印度的存在相对有限。这是因为，

中国在印度的市场资源有限，与印度的伙伴关系缺乏。中国企业发现了印度的市场高风险导向和不利的政府政策。只有有限的公司在印度协助中国企业扩大业务和寻找投资机会。印度对外资和资源的需求非常巨大，中国的技术和投资可以帮助印度解决这一问题。

India & China - The future

India has opened up 100% FDI in many sectors. India is moving towards an export-oriented economy under the “Make in India” campaign launched by PM Modi and is attracting many manufacturing industries to set up operations. India has 65% of the population between 20-35 years. The young population makes it a favorable emerging market in fin-tech, hi-tech, medical industry, etc to thrive. China, on the other hand, is 10 years ahead in infrastructure development and logistics network. India has a very matured IT infrastructure, auto component, medical & pharmaceutical industry. India ranks in the top 10 for foreign investments. Given to US-China Trade War; India could be an alternative trading partner to China. Facilitating bilateral trade for business and technology transfer would bring both the countries closer and reshape the geopolitical landscape.

互补中双赢

印度已将许多产业的外国直接投资开放到100%。在莫迪总理发起的“印度制造”运动下，印度正在走向出口导向型经济，吸引了许多制造业企业。印度的平均年龄是28岁，人口红利使之成为FIN技术、高科技、服装业等蓬勃发展的有利市场。另一方面，中国在基础设施发展和物流网络方面领先印度10年。印度拥有非常成熟的IT基础设施，汽车零部件、医疗和制药行业，印度在外国投资国家中排名前十。在中美贸易战争中，印度可能是中国的替代贸易伙伴，贸易将使两国关系更加密切。我们的目标是解决中国和印度企业之间投资、贸易等经济业务方面的问题，为双国经济发展作点贡献。
