On The Grapevine With Pevine

Pevine is not any particular person, and in the last issue the ideas of two people were merged, and in this issue we have a new Pevine, but in each case Pevine is someone familiar with the politics of the USCF, So, without further ado:

I can't understand why you let yourself get so upset. By now you should be used to this, and take it in stride. Whether you are aware of it or not from Sperling on down we are wracked with politics, politics, politics -- and you ain't liked. Why else would they horse you around this way?

I can offer you one piece of constructive advise. Either get a constituency and throw your weight around or do as I have done--FORGET IT

SHORT STORIES by Robert M. Snyder

Hi Earle: I personally like Chessman and think that it is lively, full of games and information.

The trouble with expanding a magazine into another area is to get news & information from the new area (if you can find a reliable correspondent who wishes to be a co-editor and represent that area you are in good shape) and to get subscriptions and let the people in that area know about your magazine. If 16 Q-Q1 then Q-R3 is strong. It isn't easy. (Tell me about it Robert-Ed)

To get Chessman onto the newsstands is a good idea - few chess magazines are found on the stands (with CL being found only once in awhile) 18 PxP Yours.

A SHORT CAREER

Rudolph Charousek (1873-1900) was a Hungarian Master who learned the moves late in life, at the age of 16. He was soon to be recognized as one of the top players in the world In tournament competition he tied for first place with Chigorin at Budapest, 1896, won clear first at Berlin, 1897, and shared second prize at Cologne, 1898 (despite ill health). He died of tuberculosis at the age of 26 when many of his competitors considered him to be a future World Champion.

The following game is considered to be one of Charousek's finest masterpieces. Black builds up a strong King side attack penetrating with his Queen and two Bishops to secure a sparkling victory. TWO KNIGHTS DEFENSE

At this point the players agreed to a draw as it would be disadvantageous for either side to deviate from the perpetual check. This must be one of the most exciting draws on record.

Arkansas

I am, as usual, very pleased with this issue of TC - I especially like he back - page ad for the Ar Pro/Am However, I must disagree with the comments about the Mapili/Niggel game! I agree that 20...Qc3 is :: owever, the comment under the game is incorrect, the original reason why I gave Racl:, because it contained a trap. I give the following.

21 ... Qc1?? 22 ef

22b ... Kh8 22a ... Kf6 23 Bbl Kg8 23 Qe5 mate 24 Qh7 mate

The comment is true Black wins a whole Rook, but unfortunately his King falls, the original Racl! may have been a bit hasty(perhaps Racl !?)-a little bit too trappy. Probably 21 ef followed by a Bishop retreat is more promising.

Danny Williamson

In the last issue of TC I left out the South Arkansas Open, held in Camden, in the list of tournaments in Arkansas. June--South Arkansas Open - Donny Gray (5-0) Sorry Donny This report is a conglomeration, with games from the LRCC Champ. (won by Roger Martin), and other games from recent events. See vou at the Pro/Am. I'm looking forward to seeing ever

THE STONEWALL ATTACK by Mike Clingan

The Stonewall attack according to Master Ken Smith is an ideal opening for lower rated plavers. Mike Clingan won the first game in which he used it against a player rated almost 700 rating pts above him! He has used it 5 times since then and has yet to lose a game with it. C. Kozel

The Stonewall Attack is an aggre ssive opening which gives White a strong pawn center and prepares his heavy pieces for attacking Black's K-side. The normal position occurs when White has pawns on QB3, Q4,K3, and KB4. These pawns form a stonewall that aims at control of the K5 square. Its weakness is that the KP is a backward pawn that cannot be protected by another pawn and must be protected by a piece. White develops his KN to K5, giving it great control over the center. His KB goes to 03. giving it great range over the board and aiming at Black's K-side. White's QN goes to Q2 to control the hole on K4 and with the KB prevents Black from placing a Knight on his own K5 square. The Stonewall Attack has been referred to as a "murderous assault" or as one having menacing, formidable and smashing pos sibilities. When allowed by Black and properly executed by White. White's attack can quickly become both devastating and final. Here are a few variations that appear in tournament play. The ideal position for White will be shown in the first example.

FIRST VARIATION 1 P-04

There is more than one way into the Stonewall, P-KB4, P-K3, and even P-QB3 will sometimes work. While 1 have varying psychological effects on your opponent.

P-04 4 N-02 P-OR4 2 P-K3 N-KB3 5 P-OB3 3 B-03 P-K3

Not only strengthining the QP but if ...P-B5. B-B2 keeps the Bishop on the strong diagonal.

B-02 6 P-KB4

The shocker. White could have proceeded with 6 N-KB3 and played a regular Colle.

N-B3 8 N-K5 7 KN-KB3 R-B1

Planting the Knight in the center.

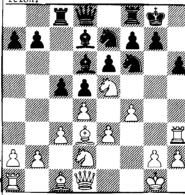

B-03 10 R-B3 9 0-0 0-0

Bringing the Rook into action.

10 ... N-K2 11 R-R3

Now White has great attacking chances. Efforts by Black to exchange the KN result in the freeing of the White OR which has thus far sat out the game. If the diagonal QB1-KR6 is opened at a favorable moment, a sac on KR6 may well end the game. White may acce lerate his attack with P-KN4. Black, having played too passively is burdened with an inferior pos-

SECOND VARIATION 1 P-04 P-04 2 P-K3 B-B4

Black prevents B-Q3 and the first variation

3 P=OB4

White opens up a diagonal for his Queen. We have now transposed into a favorable variation of the OGD for White.

P-OB3 6 N-B3 P-K3 4 N-KB3 N-B3 7 N-K5! B-Q3 5 PxP PxP 8 Q-N3

White is much more active and has great attacking chances. Another way of handling this same Black move of B-B4 and one favored by Bent Larsen is:

THIRD VARIATION 1 P-04 P-Q4 6 P-KB4 P-K3 2 P-K3 P-OB4 7 N-KB3 B-K2 3 P-QN3 N-QB3 8 B-K2 0 - 04 B-N2 N-B3 9 N-K5

This has the advantage of the second variation and the strength of the fianchettoed bishop. Some might feel the bishop is useless because of the pawn formation that blocks it. I prefer to think of P-Q4 is the soundest, these others the bishop as having great potential energy, like a compressed spring ready to burst loose. It is left to the White player to utilize this Basque motif to his advantage. White does spend several tempi preparing the fianchetto, and this delays his attack.

It should now be clear that the Stonewall Attack is just the kind of opening for someone who does not want to be burdened with endless study of openings and who desires a safe position, easily arrived at. that still offers White an active and even aggressive game. The White player should not, however, pass up chances to transpose into favorable variations of other openings.

Presidents Report

Our last year was a very good year for Arkansas chess, due in no small part to The Chessman. In order to maintain our growth, I ask each of you to keep your ACA membership current. If your membership expires 6/80, please send in $5 for a year's dues ($4 under 19) by May 10. If your membership expires at a different time, I will send you a card informing you of your membership fee, as all ACA memberships are set to expire at the end of June.

Please send any tournament games to Craig Kozel; we need good annotated games for the Arkansas section.

BONANZA in GAINESVILLE by Alan Tenan

On the weekend of January 26 and 27, Flor-ida chess players were treated to a great the excellent promotion job done by the tournament organizer, Jay King, Jay not only put up the prize money but also spent a lot of money on advertising the event. Ads were placed in CL&R, The Chessman, and local newspapers. Flyers were sent out to players across the state. In his effort to make the Florida Grand Prix a first class tournament, Jay spared no expense nor his own time. As a result, the Florida Grand Prix became a first class tournament.

Now on with the tournament. Registration was reminiscent of most large tournaments a little bit too long. Although registration was supposed to end by 8:30am, players kept coming right up to 9:00. As a result the first round was delayed (isn't it always?). I would like to urge all players in the future to arrive during the posted registration time. As it usually turns out, the players who complain the loudest that a round is late, are the same ones who register late. I am positive I would never have made it through registration without the help of Jim Ledford, Lisa Stallworth, Jay King, and Dale Ames who also served as an excellent tournament director for the reserve section (under 1600).

Round 1 Due to the 50 plus turnout in both sections, pairings had to be accelerated and thus we had good fighting chess right from round 1. Top rated Fernando Durate (2264 Brazil) had to adjourn his game in a slightly better position against Larry Storch (1968). The slow time limit and the late start of the round resulted in several other adjournments on lower boards. Second rated, Tom Dejong (2240 Holland) suffered a loss to Tom Steirs (1953) who simply outplayed the Dutch Master. Meanwhile our third master, Dr. Walter Cunningham had been given a 1/2 point bye in advance. So going into round 2, the top three boards had amassed a total of 1/2 points (that being the

Round 2 also started slightly late but most of these games took less time than previous rounds. The big news came in the Reserve section where Marvin Parsons upset top-rated Dennis Davis (1579). Mr. Parsons continued his excellent play and finally ended up tieing for second overall. In the Open section, Duarte and Storch sat down again for their adjourned game. After two more hours it had to be adjourned again! Further down the list of players was Bruce Koopmans (1919) who after two rounds had two adjourned games. It was agreed to finish all the adjourned games the next morning at 8:00am.

Round 3 The strain of the day started to show as many of the games seemed to be drawn early or were won quickly when an opponent would blunder. Top rated Fernando Duarte officially had only one point (his adjournment had yet to be finished) when he was paired with the tournatwo other opponents. It looked like Jay was going to upset the Brazilian Master. Jokes were going around that the reason Jay guaranteed first prize was because he was planning to win it, but Jay blundered and Durate jumped was playing John Pfeiffer (2101). Zafaranian on it and the point.

Gainesville, home of the University of Florida, appeared to live up to its nickname as "the #1 party school in the U.S." as many of the players arrived with very tired looks on their faces, but not one was complaining. As for the adjournments, Mr. Duarte finally found the winning line against Storch and gained the full point. The most interesting adjournment was between Bruce Koopmans and Michael Lucente. Finally after a perpetual check driving White's King down to e6 and about 70 moves, the two agreed to a draw. On Board 1 Duarte outplayed Jacinto Pereira (1989). White on board 2 tournament in Gainesville. In all, 115 players Steve Chachakis (2072) played Hugo Orizondo, a took part. The large turnout was the result of new player to the USCF who had beaten two 1900's and a 1500. In the end Chackis joined Duarte in the ranks of the undefeated. The big news came on board 3 where another foreign player, Hossein Zafaranian, also new to the USCF, played Dr. Cunningham and after a very interesting game Mr. Zafaranian upset the master.

In the reserve section four players had perfect scores 4-0, Mark Williams, Marvin Parsons, Karl Skjersaa, and Pete Dunkelberg hadn't played tournament chess since 1965.

The reserve section pairings were Williams -Dunkelberg and Parsons - Skjersaa. Parsons and Skjersaa agreed to a quick draw guaranteeing each $150. "Kool Karl" Skjersaa asked that he b paid as soon as possible because he had to buy something at a store before it closed. Jay King obliged by finishing his game in 8 moves and by paying Mr. Skjersaa. Karl returned a while later

When asked why he bought the snake, he replied, "I need something to keep my pet Python company". Now getting back to the tournament, it was about an hour later that Mark Williams posted his win for a perfect score 5-0, first place and $225. Mark's performance indicament organizer Jay King. Jay is a very strong tes that he may not be able to play in reserve player in his own right and had already beatensections much longer, but he sure is making good hase of it while he still can. In the open section, the board 1 clash between Durate and Chachakis resulted in a draw. Only Zafaranian could catch them with a win. He once again emerged victorious and tied Durate and Chackis with 4 1/2 points (only Tom Stiers was able to hold Zafarnian to a draw). The three split the top three prizes and took home $200 each. On tie-breaks it was Steve Chackakis who came in first with Durate in 2nd Top Expert was Mikel Peterson with a 4-1 score. Three players tied for top A with a 4-1 score: Tom Stiers (who came in 4th overall on tie-breaks) and Roger Peeples who finally won a marathon game with Mike Tannenbaum to get into the money. Top B prize went to Robert Rodriguez also with a 4-1 score.

On a final note, I'd like to say I had a great time and that I'd like to thank Jay King. If it wasn't for him, the tournament would never have materialized. I'd like to also thank Dale Ames whose help was invaluable. A tournament as successful as this is a good thing for chess players and chess in general. As for myself I know I'm looking forward to any other tournaments that can match the "Florida Grand Prix".

> ORGANIZING THE GRAND PRIX by Jav King

I decided to organize a large tournament when I became disappointed in the state championship's $1700 prize fund for its 175 players. I wanted to (1) match or exceed the State Championship prize fund, (2) return a greater percentage of entries for the prize fund, and (3) play at a large tournament near home. Considering traveling and lodging expenses to a good tournament elsewhere I was prepared to accept some small loses. I figured my winning chances would be increased by playing in my home ground. The break between the two sections were determined by my rating at that time, when it was in the 1600's. First place was guaranteed to attract strong players and Class A was guaranteed for me to shoot for. My top priority was to have a large turnout. Therefore, I spent freely in advertising, which was nearly 90% of my tournament expenses. With voluntary support especially from the two tournament directors and Mr. Cantrell's generous cut in cost for book prizes I managed to keep my other cost down. Of the 120 players that registered, about half preregistered but several failed to appear reducing the total to about 115 active players. According to a survey, 50% responded to the "Chess Life" ad, followed by 20% group by direct mail.

After turning down some prankster's thermometer setting of 100 degrees in the top board room and settling some smoking complaint, I went back to my game and quickly made a terrible blunder. After the game master Durate, a visitor from the school of Mecking, later quoted "I had never been in such a horrible position in this line of defense ever in all my playing in Brazil." I earned a moral victory.

MOTORING THROUGH THE GRAND PRIX by Larry Storch

I was feeling pretty good Saturday morning. The Florida Grand Prix Tournament had attracted 115 players - many of whom were good frie nds of mine. I had planned to renew old acquaintances and get in some light hearted chess at the same time. After all, when you have a rating of 1968, you don't really have to play any serious chess until the second round, and I was having too much fun playing five minute chess with fellow Orlando club members Miles Ardaman and Otto Estenger. Suddenly a voice called my name from across the skittles room.

"Hey Larry, guess who you're paired with?" Somehow, I didn't need to be told. I would be paired with the top ranked player in the tournament, a Brazilian master named Fernando Duarte. What started out as a light-hearted weekend turned very serious. After 43 moves, webpen and reserve sections when adjourned the game with Duarte holding an extraactually there was only one secpawn in a rook and pawn endgame. I had a quick tion and under 1600 prizes. I second round win and then it was back to the endgame. Again we adjourned as I sealed my 64th han one irate lower level playmove. The position looked grim but I had slim chances to draw. Meanwhile, T.D. Alan Tenan, seeing that I had a chance to ward off one disaster, offered another - a third round pairing against yet another master - this time and I entered a sharp Sicilian where the Gain-

Round 2

For some unknown reason that only Don Bowen Rdl could explain the Orange Blossom Open was scheduled in the same weekend with the Orange Blossom Parade. The biggest event of the year in Winter Haven, the city must have doubled in population! Fifty bands, cheerleaders, B'hai Shriners, clowns, jugglers, and other assorted Draw non-coms marched down the people-lined street and past the tournament site. They ALL wanted

1980 ORANGE BLOSSOM OPEN by Mark Solomon

Florida chess players, REJOICE! Winter Haven is the latest city to successfully fill the chess activity void created by Tampa/Orlando/Miami. And what a success it was. Winter Haven's first-ever tournament, the 1980 Orange Blossom Open, drew fiftyfive participants who braved the unknown, and then left this small Central Florida city hoping to soon return.

Being new to the tournament organization game, Winter Haven's "The Chess Club" encountered a few minor problems. The man to the tournament site was drawn starting from inside the city, but this didn't help me much since I couldn't even find Winter Haven! It was embarrassing to think that the TD would be late for the first round. Arriving at the site, my real problems began, The tournament announcment unintentionally gave the impression that there was eceived a scathing from more er. I would like to take this opportunity to apologize and add that neither "The Chess Club" or meant to deceive anyone in any way. Despite these "first tournament jitters", Dr. Armando third ranked Walter Cunningham (2238): This was Timenez and Don Bowen must be congratulated for definitely getting to be a long day. Cunninghamorganizing a first class event. Everyone agreed that the tournament conditions (temperature, noise level, lighting, comfort, hotel and rest-aurant access, prize to entry fee ratio) were of the highest quality, and all asked Dr. Jimenez to stage another Winter Haven tournament

Using my referee's whistle, I easily got the puarte went on to become the tournament co-win-round only a few minutes late. Ten minutes into plaining that their opponent had not yet arrived. It struck me that the missing players had actually requested half point byes for the first round and the person handling pre-entries (B) Peter Kurucz (A)had failed to note that. Heck, it was Winter Haven's first try, next time, I think they'll know better. In the interest of saving time. I to use the bathrooms in the building and I finally had to throw them out and lock the doors. Actually, while the parade was evident from the skittles room, it was barely noticable from the tournament room.

"We wuz jus playin a friendly game o'chess sheriff, an' then 'e says, DRAW!

There were a few more upsets this round. Gene Cauley (1321) beat John Mobley (1664), John Linder (Unr) defeated Cliff Nahas (1509), Edwin Faust was tripped up a second time by a Winter Haven newcomer, Arturo Perez (Unr), and Kool Kowboy Karl Skjersaa (1475) roped Jim Ledford (2018) for half a point.

Round 3

The parade was over by now and the town had cleared out. It was safe to unlock the doors. The unrated players continued to make their presence felt, with Danny Gonzalez (Unr) defeating Paul Mitchell (1416) and Gerald Smith (Unr) blanking Don Hallman.

Round 4

Since the strong players were begining to slug it out amoung themselves, draws increased and the chance of a perfect score vanished. The lone upset was Paul Tomaino (1772) splitting the point with Gerald Smith.

Things were slow down at the OCC because everyone was playing at Winter Haven, so Larry Storch, Miles Ardaman (the blond blitzer), and Scott Smith paid a visit to the tournament. Larry took pictures (which will hopefully appear in The Chessman), Miles whipped all challengers in speed chess, and Scott bailed a participant out of a bye.

Round 5

When the dust settled, Thomas Benham (1979) from Atlantis and Bruce Koopmans (1919) from Rochester, N.Y., emerged as co-champions. Benham won a see-saw battle from Michael Goodman (1729) and Koopmans blitzed Zafaranian (game below). Jay King won a piece from Otto Estenger (1688) in the opening only to hand it back 30 moves later. This costly error dropped King and Estenger Jr. into a five way tie for third along with Bob Persante (1815), Jim Ledford, and Harold Alford (2050). Gerald Smith and Donald Craig (1560) tied for first prize under 1600, while Dr. Armando Jimenez, Noni Vianzon (1380), Bob Canright (1426), John Krue(1449), J. Paul Ramas(1462), Clifford Nahas, John Riola (Unr), and Edwin Faust formed a logjam for third.

Conclusion

The new players on the tour to watch out for are Hossein Zafaranian, Gerald Smith, and Dr. Armando Jimenez. I would like to thank Dr. Jimenez and Don Bowen for organizing the 1980 Orange Blossom Open, Mr. and Mrs. Bowen for putting me up in their lovely home, Gil and Flora Cantrell for offering their chess wares and John "J.D." DeMassimo for assisting me with the tournament chores. Finally, Arturo Perez and Ronald Mastronardi can bring their girlfriends to my chess tournaments anytime! If nothing else, they are two great reasons to see you in Winter Haven next time!

THE LOYAL OPPOSITION
By Greg Samsa

To my mind, the main reason that the majority of players find the endgame difficult is that it is the phase of the game that most requires accurate assessment of positions. Not that it hurts to know what's going on in the opening or middlegame, but it has been my experience that one will usually be successful if he consistantly follows a plan, any plan, no matter how unjustified. This state of affairs simply is not the case in the endgames.

In learning to assess rook endgames, one first needs a mastery of the basics, i.e rook and pawn vs. rook. Smyslov and Levenfish's treatment in Rook Endings is the best I know of. It takes more than one reading and I always review that chapter before serious tournament play.

The other basic principal is that piece activity is paramount in this kind of ending. Weaknesses often can't be defended. The most active plan is almost always the correct one. In this month's example, Black misses his only chance to activate his pieces and is condemned to watch White transpose into a winning R+1 vs. R ending.

White has the active Rook and threatens to play b4, obtaining an outside passed pawn. However, he must time his advance so Black has no possibility of activating his Rook, i.e. 1 b4? ab 2 Kb4 Re2!=(Inexperienced players should play this line out to convince themselves that this kind of defense does in fact draw, as it is a common strategem in Rook endings). White first move forces Black's Rook to leave the a file

1 g3 Rd7 2 b4 ab 3 Kb4 Re7
3...Rd3 fails as the Rook is too close to the White King to maintain checking distance i.e. 4 a5! Ka6 5 Rg7+. But 3...Rd5! activates the Rook and gives Black excellent drawing chances after 4 Rg7 c5 5 Kc3 Re5. One should be on the lookout for this sort of break before the bind sets in.

4. a5 Ka6 5 Rg6 Rb7 6 Ka4 Rc7 7 g4 Ka7 The most stubborn. Kb7 would deny the bfile to the Rook.

8 Rg5 Re7 9 Kb4 Rb7 10 Kc3 Triangulating in order to gain a tempo. 10...Ka6 11 Kc4 Ka7

On 11...Rf7(Re7? 12 Kc5 Ka5 13 Kd6+) there occurs 12 Kc5 Ka5 13 Kc6 Kb4 14 Kd6 Kc4 15 Ke6 Ra7 16 Rd5: cutting off the King 16...Ra1 17 Rd7 and wins (check this).

Chess O.O

To start off with, I'd like to remind everyone of the 8th NC Scholastics in Marshville on Apr. 12-13. Complete details are in the tournament announcements. Any questions should be directed to Joe Stegall, who has put together the best bid ever. All NC players should spread the word to the schools and encourage as many as possible to attend.

Two NC players are taking part in a special postal match with the USSR. William Bickham of Ashville and Norman fornstein of Southport have both been selected to be on the US team of the top 50 postalites.

The top fish award appears to have been a failure. I only received one game, and that a part of a game. Oh well back to the drawing board.

I inadvertantly left off the list of active TD's Mike Williams, Rt 1, Skyuka Rd., Columbus, NC 28722. Also, Leroy Greenlee, 222 Mountain View Rd., Elkin, NC 28621 has now become a TD. I passed the exam, so I am a Senior TD.

After finally getting my address straightened out with everyone but the USCF(They have the right address but the wrong zip code) I'm going to have to announce another change. After May 7th, I'll be elsewhere. I don't know the address yet, hopefully I'll have it by the next deadline. Expect a delay in reaching me, since the Chapel Hill PO will be forwarding a lot of student mail after that. I'll know by next issue if I get to stay in this room next year.

CM Larry Christiansen will be making a sweep through NC in either April or May. Possible stops are: Chapel Hill, High Point, Ashville, Raleigh, and Rockingham. To find out if and when he's coming contact the local clubs in each of these.

Anyone interested in being a games editor for NC should write to me. Duties are to look through the games submitted, and pick out the best ones or parts of games which should be showcased. If you feel industrious, you can even put notes on them.

Please remember that memberships expire on the first of the month of the mailing label. If I don't have a renewal by about the 10th of even numbered months, you'll miss an issue.

Membership is 310, a slight drop which is mainly due to a technicality. Last issue's 318 figure was at almost the end of December while this figure is from early in the month so fewer renewals have come in. There is $780.06 in the treasury and net worth after Chessman obligations is $227.06.

WANT ADS by Tom Galloway & Earle Morrison

Most of us have seen hard times at least periodically, alot of our readers are college students who need summer jobs. Therefore, if you have a job, particularly in data processing or a summer job The Chessman will publish it one time free(any reasonable job description) and for $2 The Chessman will run a job wanted ad for any Chessman reader. Considering the dispersion of The Chessman's circulation you would almost have to be willing to relocate for the ad to be effective.

Tournament Reports

The DRAGON II was held in Raleigh, NC on Jan. 5th, 1980. The winners were: Greg Samsa (2002) 3-0 in the top section(2002-1602), Will Foster in the second section(1400) 2 1/2-1/2, Robert Wells (1257) in the third section(1257-Unr) with a 3-0 score, and Robert Patterson(U) in the bottom section also with 3-0. This event was directed by Louis Cobb with Will Foster's assistance.

THE ASHVILLE FALL CLASSIC was held in Hendersonville, NC on November 17-18, 1979. In the open section, Greg Samsa(2202) won the $ 125 first prize with a 4-1 score. Second place was taken by Lee Taylor(2121) with a 3 1/2-1 1/2 score for $75. Top A was Charles Phillips (1864) whose 3-2 won him $50. Winning $30 for second A was William Bickham(1944) with 2 1/2-2 1/2. Tied for first and second B with 3-2 were Jim Hardy(1784) and Claude Corbett(1602). Each received $ 0.

In the reserve section, Bill Adickes and Mike Williams (1586 & 1481) each received $60 for their 4 1/2-1/2 scores which tied for first and second. Top D was Carl Horton with 3 1/2-1 1/2 who received $40. Second D was George McGraw(1287) with 3-2 for which he received $20. In a three way tie for first, second, E/Unr were Jerry Taylor (1185), Terry Burdett(1160), and Gary Spence (Unr) each with 3 1/2-1 1/2. Each received $20.

THE FALL CLASSIC was sponsored by the Ashville CC and was directed by Herb Horton.

Late News

In the USSR Championship, 54 year old Ewfim Geller was first with a ll 1/2-5 1/2 score. Second was 19 year old former World Jr. Champion Arthur Yusupov. Tied for third were 16 year old Gary Kasparov, and Chaim Rashkovsky.

Yasser Seirawan won the Wijk aan zee tournament in the Netherlands by 1 1/2 points. Players included Korchnoi and Timman. I assume this was a Grandmaster norm, which if memory serves me correctly, would be his second, the first in Lone Pine a few years back.

The US Junior Open is nebulous right now. UNC's site fell through, but as of Feb. 8th, no one has turned in a bid, so we are checking alternative sites a few miles from campus I will know for sure next issue(sounds familiar doesn't it.).

ASHVILLE CHESS CLUB HISTORY By Neil Harris

Ashville has historically been the center of Western North Carolina's chess activities. A newspaper article of the 1930's reports a large turnout held at the local YMCA. In this period the late H.M. Woods of Ashville several times won the North Carolina Championship.

From 1945 through 1959 a well organized Ashville Chess Club held formal meetings and tournaments, and some of our players were active in various southern chess events. Our Ashville player of this era achieved Expert rating, had a line noted in MCO-9, and games published in \underline{CL} and in \underline{CR} .

The 1960's were fairly inactive, but the 1970's opened with a 7-1 win over the fine Spartanburg SC Club, and several tournaments were organized by Tom Nard, Editor of the Carolina Gambit. After another inactive period 11 0-0-0?! a reorganized Ashville Chess Club held ladder and club events, and under the direction of wilder Wadford reached a peak of 40 members in 1976. After still another inactive period Herbert Horton reoranized the current Ashville Chess Club in 1979. A list of club members would include such players as Bill Bickham, Bill Adickes (The Grand Old Man of chess) Charles Phillips, Bob Eoff, Jimmy Hardy, Steve Herman, Carl Horton, Gary Spence and Neal Harris. The Ashville Chess Club is here to stay and to remain active in the 80's

A HISTORY OF THE NORTH CAROLINA SCHOLASTICS By Larry Matthews

The first North Carolina High School tournament was held in April 1973 at Hickory High School. The original concept was proposed by Mark Tullis. TD's for the first tournament were Ray and Larry Hight. With 50 students competing for team and individual prizes, the awards went to: 1st team-Chapel Hill H.S., second team- Hickory H.S., third team-Winston Salem Reynolds H.S., first Junior H.S.-Kerr Lake, first individual-Gree Samsa, second individual-Mark Hutchison and Eric Dolstrom, first J.H.S.-Scott Tullis.

For 1974, the championship was moved to R.J. Reynolds H.S. in Winston-Salem. TD's were Roy Hight and William Haven. No exact number of students is available, but best estimates are in the forties. Winners were: first team-Alexander Central H.S., second team Reynolds H.S., first J.H.S. Jamestown H.S., first individual - Rex Demers, second - Eric Nielsol, third - Marty Knapp.

On April 12-13, 1975, the third scholastic championship was held in Lenoir at Hudson H.S. TD's Harry Osen, monitored the play of 46 players and 7 teams. Alexander Central H.S. became the first team to win two state titles. Following were: second team-Vance Sr. H.S., third - J.H. Rose H.S. Three individuals tied for the top honors: Mike McCann, Alan Cooley, and Jan Ludivinsky.

In April of 1976, the scholastics were held in Cary as East Cary Jr. H.S. hosted the tournament. Directing the largest tournament thus far with 10 teams and 61 students was Arthur Menius. J.H. Rose from Greenville finished first. Followed by Vance County H.S. and third McDowell Co. H.S. For the first time ever, a junior high school scored more points than one of the winning high schools as East Cary J.H.S won first J.H.S., Top individuals were: first Allen Cooley of Reynolds (the first individual to repeat as top individual), second John Smithwich of Vance, third Pickard Wilson of Broughton. Top J.H.S. player was Robert Kaplan of East Cary J.H.S.

The tournament was held in Henderson in 1977 as Ray Hight and Vance Sr. were hosts. Arthur Henius was the director for 8 teams and 54 students. Competition for top team was the closest ever. Three teams tied with 13 1/2 points, but the following order was determined by tie breaks: First - McDowell Co. H.S., second R.J.Reynolds H.S., third Sanderson H.S., First J.H.S. Ken Lake, second J.H.S. - East Cary. Top individual prize went to Bob Dunn of Sanderson. Following was James Hardy of Mc-Dowell and Brooks Pierce of Rocky Mount, Newton Prince of Fuguay was the top Junior High player.

In April of 1978, the scholastics returned to the Raleigh area as Enloe Sr High was the host. Because of the massive publicity campaign for this tournament, Tom Galloway, TD, worked with 9 schools and a record 63 students Broughton H.S. led the way by scoring 14 points. Following were Fuquay and Durham Hillside with 11 each. Fuguay H.S. was second on tiebreaks. Top junior high school was again Kerr Lake J.H.S. under the leadership of Ray Hight Kerr Lake has won more titles than any other school. Placing second in the junior high division was East Union under the guidance of Joe Stegall. Top individual for this tournament was Brooks Pierce of Rocky Mount. Following Brooks was Bob Kaplan of Cary Sr. and Chris Kremer of Chapel Hill. Barry Latta of East Union was the Junior High individual followed by Alan Patrick of East Cary.

1979 saw the tournament return to Enloe Sr. High in Raleigh. Again there was an excellent field as Thomas Galloway directed for 16 teams and 55 players. Broughton H.S. was the class of the field as they gained a record 15 points Placing second was Fuquay which beat out Chapel Hill H.S. on tie breaks. East Union Middle School clipped Ken Lake by 11 to 10 for their first championship. Leading the individual field was Nathan Hunt from Broughton, Arnold Tharrington of Hillside and Bennie Roberts of Warsaw. Top junior high was David Cheng of East Cary followed by 1978 winner Barry Latta of East Union.

For 1980, the 8th annual North Carolina Scholastics in chess will be held at East Union Middle School. Joe Stegall who has been actually involved in promoting scholastic chess in his area will act as host for his school Foust Hills. As always there will be tense moments and excellent chess played before the champions are crowned. Contending schools this year will include Ken Lake, Broughton, Fuquay, and Chapel Hill. With the move to the Charlotte area, there will probably be many schools that will compete that don't have tournament experience in the scholastic championship. Regardless of the outcome, the students will all have an enjoyable time and the sponsors of competing clubs will lose two nights sleep. Scholastic chess in North Carolina continues to grow and expand. A thousand "thank yous" to sponsors and adult directors who have given unselfishly of their time and energy. Ray Hight of Ken Lake and Joe Stegal of East Union have been instrumental in all. Recent directors of tournaments such as Arthur Menius and Thomas Galloway deserve special praise. My hope and desire is that all who read and learn of the North Carolina Scholastics and its 8 year history will want to stay, sponsor, or simply watch as the drama unfolds

Larry has done much work in organizing and directing recent N.C. Scholastic chess events. Anyone having information or crosstables of the earlier scholastics should send them to Tom Galloway to be forwarded to Larry. The NCCA owes thanks to Larry for this detailed history of a major part of N.C. Chess. Tom Galloway

> COLLEGE CHESS IN THE 80s by David Chu, President of ICLA

In order for future growth to occur in chess across this country, it is necessary that a strong base for such growth be laid among the young today. People who become interested in chess while in college usually retain that interest throughout their lives. Therefore, a stimulation of interest and participation in chess amoung those 18 to 25 years old, the vast majority of whom attend a college, university, or two-year community college is a key prerequisite for a growing chess community and a properous USCF in the years to come. The principal role to be played in this endeavor is by the local college CC.

Seven years of experience in college chess has shown me, however, that routine college chess club activities are insufficient to maintain high levels of interest and participation amoung college students. What college chess needs are more competitive matches with other schools. Such matches attract great interest among college students and are a source of good publicty for chess since they highlight the already intense traditional rivalries among colleges. Naturally, schools would like to participate in the prestigious national, regional, and state intercollegiate championships. However, structural constraints such as lack of money and time, limit the activity of college chess clubs to local matches for the most part.

The Intercollegiate Chess League of America (ICLA) cannot hope to manage such local activties nation wide. As a national organization, the ICLA functions best at its own level; namely in organizing the two national championships: the Pan American Intercollegiate Team Championship and the Individual Intercollegiate Championship. The organization of local matches is best done at the grass roots level, i.e. by the schools themselves. This does not mean, however, that the ICLA cannot perform a useful function in helping local organizers or in initiating new programs. The TCLA is not a one-dimensional organization. We are planning a varity of programs with which to start the new decade of the 80's. A NEW AGENDA FOR THE '80s

In order to aid colleges organize matches with other schools locally, the ICLA plans to create a COLLEGE CHESS CLUB DIRECTORY to send to all of its affiliates. The Directory will provide a list of colleges, the current name, address, and phone number of the contact person for each club, and other relevant data such as meeting times, the number of boards a club can provide for a match and so on. This information will greatly facilitate local college organizers in arranging matches with nearby schools.

Naturally, because of the prohibitive distances between most schools, even such a directory will have a limited use. Therefore, the ICLA intends to establish a new program of nationwide radio chess matches between schools. Nearly every college has a ham radio station. In cooperation with these radio clubs matches can be played quite easily with other schools across the state and even across the nation. Schools interested in this program will have a special listing in our directory to indicate this.

The primary function of the ICLA is to serve the interest of college chess. We believe that this is best done by promulgating interschool chess matches at the local level. But we need your cooperation: I therefore ask every college student, professor, and administrator reading this article to urge your college chess club, whether or not it is already an ICLA affiliate, to contact me at my address below in order to participate in our programs and to be listed in our DIRECTORY. I also ask that every college alumnus contact your former college chess club to indicate your desire that they participate in our programs. Your state has a number of colleges, universities, and community colleges. By strengthening college chess in your state today, you will be helping in a positive way to strengthen chess in your state and across the nation in the years to come. Inquires may be sent to: David W. Chu, 6-C Hogan Hall, c/o Carmen Hall, Columbia Univ., N.Y., N.Y. 10027.

TOURNAMENT NEWS

Donaldson Wins 14th Queen City Open Senior Master John Donaldson of Seattle won the 14th Queen City Open Tournament with a perfect 5-0 score. The tournament was held December 14-16, in Erlanger, Kentucky, by the Cincinnati Chess Federation. Fifty-five players participated in the tournament. Our congratulations to the CCF on a successful tournament.

Kentucky Chess Derby - The first Kentucky Chess Derby was held in August at the Univ. of Louisville. There was a four way tie for first between R. Bostrom, M. Dockery, C. Farley, and G. Klinglesmith.

Central Kentucky Chess Championship - was held in Lexington in September. There was a tie for first between C. Meidinger and T. Washington.

Fall City Open - Sponsored by the Louisville Chess Club, was held in October in Louisville. M. Dockery was the winner.

Berean College Open - Rob Bostrom won this November tournament.

Tennessee State Championship - Alan Erlebacher tied for first with Marty Appleberry in this Labor Day tournament.

KCA Winter Open - Dennis Godel won with a perfect score 5-0, held Feb. 2-3. SOCIAL NEWS

KCA President, Icy Loyall, has become Mrs. Bruce Gardner. The wedding was December 22nd at the Severns Valley Baptist Church in Elizabethtown, Ky.

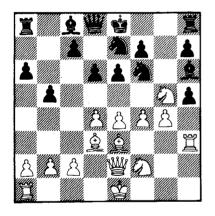

At the Seventh Cincinnati Chess Federation Awards Banquet, Rea B. Hayes, founder of the first modern chess club in Cinn. in 1958, was named "Chess Man of the Decade." The award was a four-foot plaque in the shape of a chess king.

In Memory John Miles has recently passed away. He was one of the nicest people in Kentucky. He never had a bad word to say about anyone and was liked by everyone. He will be missed by all who knew him.

HAVE YOU HEARD about the man pensively sitting on a park bench. A Salvation Army girl approaches and wishes to know if he had been saved. "Indeed I was", says the man with a blissful smile; "It happened last night and I still can hardly believe it. I had neglected castling and overlooked my opponents NxKBP; it cost me a pawn and the exchange, and I was in utter despair. But after a while I was lucky enough to get away with a perpetual. A ruddy miracle."

BEATING THE CODE

In Ultra Goes to War (1978, McGraw-Hill) its author, Ronald Lewis, says that Harry Golombek, Stuart Milner-Barry and Hugh O'Donel Alexander were very important members of the team which broke the Nazi Enigma code (referred to as "Ultra Secret").

In September, 1939, the British team for the International Chess Olympiad was in Buenos Aires. It had just qualified for the final when the war broke out. "With visions of London in flames, " Stuart Milner-Barry recalled. "most of us did not think we could go on playing chess." And so, on the blacked-out and unconvoyed Alcantana, which happened to be leaving Argentina on the night of their decision, the team returned safely to England-+ their only alarm coming from a porpoise which Milner-Barry, watchkeeping at night, had mistaken for a U-boat.

Had the ship been torpedoed, the whole course of World War II could have been changed. For the British chess team, composed of a group of talented and patriotic players, was later credited with a large part in one of the most critical undertakings of the war, the breaking of the NAZI Enigma code.

They were men of quality. Stuart Milner-Barry, an undergraduate at Trinity College, Cambridge, had been a British boy champion at chess and became president of the British Chess Federation. He later occupied high post in the British Treasury and was knighted. Alexander had obtained a first in mathematics at Kings' College, Cambridge. For a quarter of a century he maintained a position as Britains leading chess player. The third of the remark-able trio was Golembek, a recognized international chess master, who represented Britain in no fewer than nine Olmpiads, and who, like Milner-Barry, was later knighted.

MEMORY

During my lecture at the Elk's Club of San Mateo, I was asked how important memory is playing chess. I would say that it is of the utmost importance. Intelligence is another matter--but having intelligence HELPS;

It so happened that during the simultaneous exhibition preceeding the lecture, I played 23 boards, and on one board my opponent lost in nine moves. The game was an exact replica of a game I had played blindfolded in a ten-board exhibition in Barcelona, 1936; and one that appeared in my book on Blindfold Play "Adventures of a Chess Master" had my opponent seen this game he would have remembered the mating possibilities in the arisen position. Here's the game:

THE PAN AM

The Pan American Intercollegiate returned to the west coast after an absence of 15 years and drew 42 teams and 187 players, the lowest attendence since 1967. Western colleges did not turn out in force; only 15 western teams competed compared to 14 back in 1964 (UCLA deserves credit for fielding 4 teams). Host school University of Southern California showed it cared much more about football than chess in providing a poorly lit playing hall and far less financial support than expected; but the players behaved very well despite adverse conditions. This small Pan Am was the strongest ever: 21 masters and 35 experts made up almost one third of the players (last year 15 masters entered). Fourteen teams were rated over 2000 led by Yale (2344), Colorado (2211), Toronto (2208) and Pennsylvania (2191). Defending Champions Yale, boasting IM Michael Rohde at first board, were the favorites; last year Yale had not only won all 8 of its matches but not lost any of its 32 games: Yale, Toronto, and Penn each had 3 masters. Four Soviet emigres were competing: Sergei Kudrin of Columbia Leonid Bass of Purdue, Dmitry Agrachov of Colorado, and Andras Budinszky of Texas.

Tale's aura of invincibility shattered at Y the start when they lost a game while beating Texas at Austin 3-1. In round 3 Yale rested Michael Rohde against Florida and won the top two boards anyway, but then lost board 3 on time, and then board 4 also overstepped. All Florida had to do to tie the match was call the forfeit. But, to the amazement of a horde of spectators, the Florida player made 7 more moves, looking only at his own clock, and then offered a draw which was accepted with alacrity. While other teams talked of Yale luck the Floridian explained he thought Florida had drawn on Board 3 and the match had been lost whatever he did. Meanwhile some Yale rivals had their own problems. Colorado was upset at the start by UCLA C 2 1/2-1 1/2, Columbia fell to UCLA B 3-1 in the next round, Penn lost to both Rhode Island College and Chicago, while Toronto lost a tough fight to Purdue 2 1/2-1 1/2. Yale and Purdue both emerged with 4-0 records at the halfway mark and then Purdue (2063) held Yale to a tie to keep sharing the lead.

Purdue's moment of glory was brief as it lost 2 straight matches to Florida and Chicago Yale repulsed Toronto, but then ran into a determined Minnesota team out to avenge their loss to Yale in last years finale. Minnesota tied Yale and Peter Thompson drew Michael Rohde who was 5-0 before the match. That left Yale and Florida leading with 6-1 followed by Chicago and Minnesota at 5 1/2. All four schools had a chance at first as Chicago challenged Yale, and Minnesota met Florida. Minnesota was slightly higher rated but Florida won 2 1/ 2-1 1/2 with Chicago in a better position on the remaining board. Then time trouble hit both players, Todd Barre of Chicago offered a draw after he had moved and Steve Kaufman of Yale asked spectators if he could accept a draw after his flag fell(the answer of course is no) and he overstepped. Yale protested, claiming the draw offer was harassment. Chief TD Phil Chase ruled for Chicago and an appeals committee upheld his ruling. After Chicago's team had left Yale claimed Barre had repeatedly offered draws and the decision has been submitted to the USCF TD Committee for a decision. But, whatever happens Yale has been stopped and Florida is the new Intercollegiate Champion.

Ironically Florida was the only strong team that was weaker than last year, its former first board was not playing this time. Florida proved you do not need masters to win the Pan Am. they fielded 3 experts and a A player. Florida showed tremendous resilience in bouncing back from its third round fiasco against Yale. Greg Small (3 1/2-4 1/2), captain John Nardandrea (5 1/2-2 1/2), Steven Schonhaut (7 1/2-1/2), and Tom Lawhon (6-2) made up the championship team. Depending on the dispute either Chicago or Yale is second with 6 1/2 and the other takes third with 6 match points. Chicago was led by a tremendous showing on first board by Kroll (6 1/2-1 1/2) who played 6 masters and did not lose a game: while Yales best score was made by Jon Tisdall (6-1). Toronto, the only team to beat Chicago, took 4th place with Ian Findlay (5 1/2-1/2) and Robert Morrison (5 1/2-1 1/2) leading their team. Other fine performances on top teams were turned in by Leonid Bass and Loren Schmidt of Purdue (both 6 1/2-1 1/2) and Peter Thompson of Minnesota (6-2). Rick Linden of Minnesota won his last 3 games all in crucial matches.Individual board prize winners were 1. Steve Odendahl, Swarthmore (7 1/2 - 1/2). 2. Jon Tisdall, Yale (6-1), 3. Steve Schonhaut, Florida (7 1/2-1/2), 4. Ian Findlay, Toronto (5 1/2-1/2), Alt. Michael Wood, Cal. Poly. (5 1/2-1/2). Class prizes were won by Rohde Island A and UCLA B (shared top 1900s), R.P.I. (1800s), California-Davis, MSU B, and IIT (16-1700s), Michigan State C (1500s), and Navy (1400s). Caltech was top school with enrollment under 3000 and Illinois Valley Community College won the 2 year college trophy. Phil Chase directed. Harold Winston was chief assistant. and Mike Shields, Jim Galloway, Bob Sutter, and $25.00 and also gotten a fine magazine along Bruce Kovalsky were parttime assistants. The new President of the ICLA is David Chu of Columbia University, his address is 6-C-5 Hogan Hall, c/o Carman Hall, Columbia University, NY NY 10027.

Pennsylvania

In comparison to last month's fairly negative editorial, this month has seen a few very positive things come to light. One of these was the recently completed Pa. Tournament, held at Cheyney State College over the Jan. 12-13 weekend. This was a tournament in which everyone came out happy. The college got a lot of good publicity, the PSCF picked up 32 new members, the tournament director(guess whom?) was able to direct a class B tournament (100 or more players), the players had an inexpensive place to play, and it was even finished at a reasonable hour. The last game looked a draw from around 5:00, but it was not settled as such until 6:45 or so. There were many upsets around, and the USCF even picked up 12 new junior members from a school that had never participated in rated tournaments before. A very sucessful tournament.

In addition, when you read the Jan. Chessman, note that for the first time, we are listing some tournaments in the Pittsburgh area. Please, everyone who reads this, let me know of any tournaments in your area, even if they are not rated. The PSCF can help only if we have the information to print. Getting it from CL is not a viable answer, due to time problems. Let me know your schedule as far in advance as possible. We will be happy to list all tournaments, as long as we have them. With West Virginia now receiving The Chessman Pittsburgh and the western part of the state of the state can use the publicity. We are alsofuture tournaments. thinking of listing tournaments planned for northern Delaware, as there is no Delaware Chess Association, and we do have a number of Delaware members in PSCF. (A team from that beautiful state won the team tournament).

My search for a future tournament site is now bearing fruit. With a bit of luck, the Germantown YMCA in Philly will become a site for smaller tournaments, perhaps such as CBM ournaments, although there is also a possibility of using the Univ. of Penn, for them, too. the first tournament there drew 32 players. (went well.).

If your club is not listed in the club lising section, why not? Write to me with the information and it will be put in, free of charge. Just let us know, and let the club members know of the PSCF--that way, everyone will come out ahead.

A lot of people, including myself, are watching Bill Goichberg's experiment with awarding orizes based on final point results, not on placing in the tournament. So far, it seems to e profit-making, although not tremendously so. At least he is not losing money. Also, his handicap tournaments seem to be popular; over 20 played in one of them during the Jan. 25-26 tournament at the Philly Sheraton. With Bill bringing more and more tournaments into the Philadelphia area and giving PSCF members the $2 discount for advanced entries, it is easy to see that PSCF membership is an economical way to play chess. I once calculated that if a player had played in all the tournaments in the Philadelphia area that give PSCF members discounts on entries, he would have saved over with that money.

I just finished reading the Feb. Chess Life, and I think we owe two people a bit of thanks. One is Gerry Dullea/Peter Prochaska (I usually think of them as a team as they work together so much and so well.) for the listing of The Chessman as the Pa. official publication with Earle as the editor (He is.) and then the other states with their publication in TC. Secondly, thank you to Myron Lieberman for correcting the list of state delegates to include Bob Bat off, whom I had left off the first list that as published in The Chessman earlier. Also, thanks to Myron, I remembered to include our wo regional vice presidents, Jim Politowski and Bob Dudley. I forgot to list them last year Of course, I didn't even know when I took office that I was supposed to send a list of delegates to USCF. Nobody told me those sort of things.

Along with several other states, Pa. will now honor out-of-state memberships for those tournaments sponsored by the PSCF in which PSCF members get discounts. For a long while, we have had a reciprocal agreement with N.Y. and Md., privately agreed to by the respective representatives. As of now, I will automatically extend that agreement to all states. This means that a player from N.J. who is a member of NJCA will get the same discount on PSCF tournaments that a PSCF member would get. However, a Pa. player who is a member of N.TCA will not get that discount, as he should be a PSCF member from the start. So far, most states that have replied to my proposal like the idea, with the possible restriction of closed, invitational tournaments and possibly state championships. Thile I see no problem with someone out-ofstate playing and even winning the Pa. team or individual championships (after all, the U.S. Champion need not be a US citizen), I can easily agree to that restriction for those states who wish to do so.

In closing, remember that we wish to list as many clubs as possible in places to play, and want/need games, crosstables, etc., from any and all tournaments held in our region. If our members from Delaware would also help out, send me material from there and we will also publish it. There is no Delaware chess federation right now, and we can provide some additional publicity for tournaments. After all, Wilmingon is not that far from Philly (I know--I grew up in Newark and graduated from Christiana Sr. H.S. the first year it was open (June 64).

Have to go now--hope to see you at some

The most memorable game that I have ever played was in the 9th round of the Lloyd's Bank Tournament in London, 1978. I had White against Crouch (an English master) and it was mandatory that I winthat is, to get my 2nd IM norm. QUEEN'S INDIAN DEFENSE

A FAILURE OF WILL by Alex Dunne

The chess struggle is and has always been the clash of wills. Here in the decisive last round contest for first place, NY Master Ron Kenesek fights well until his will is encouraged, seduced, betraved and finally crushed.

Penn Chess Tournament at Chevney by Dr. Roy Eikerenkoetter

The Cheyney State College Chess Team was host for a two day, fiveround Penn State Chess Team Tournament that was held in Cheyney's spacious Ada S. Georges Dining Hall on Jan. 12-13, 1980. Sponsored by the PSCF, the Swiss System tour nament drew 22 teams and 100 play, ers from the Delaware Valley area and from as far away as Lewisburg, Pa and Wilmington, Del.

The top prizewinner was the Delaware Blue Devils, whose member were Wayne Rohrich, Russell Haag, Dale Brandreth, Hugh Bender, and Leonard Thomas. Second place was taken by a Philadelphia team named "Our Best. We Think" and manned by Howard Daniels, George Kinsler, Steve Shutt, and Kevin Jiles.

Trophies, plaques, and cash prizes were also given to the winners of the following categories: Top College Team-Bucknell Univ. Top H.S. Team -Upper Darby -Robert Vaux

Cheyney's champion, Pete Rogers (2014), won all five of his games, the only first-board player to accomplish this feat.

Sixty-six of the contestants stayed overnight on Saturday, Jan. -12, in Yarnall Hall, and delicious meals were provided by Cheyney's snack bar in the Marcus Foster Student-Alumni Center.

Ira Lee Riddle, PSCF President, was the tournament director. Roy Eikerenkoetter organized and coordinated matters for the tournament

GEORGIA HIGH SCHOOL CHESS LEAGUE - 1980 This is the second season that the GCA has been requested by the high schools to operate a statewide high school chess league. We hope that the time and money expended by the GCA will encourage more high school players to join the GCA and to participate in other chass tournaments during the year. It is a fact that the more tournaments played in the better a player becomes. If a school wants to develop a strong team, the players need to start now playing in tournaments so that next year they will make it into the playoffs. I can not think of a single high school player that is active in tournaments whose rating is below 1400. I recently looked over the tournament crosstable from the 1976 Georgia High School Championship. Of the 6 players from that event that have remained active, we have one master, Tom Algeo, two experts Jim Vermilya and Mark Coles, and 3 class A players Jay Schneider now 12 years old, Alison Bert one of the top women players in the US, and Robby Close who is not really that active. Of the others all of them that were active through their senior year in high school became either class A or B players So the best way to improve your game is by coming out to tournaments.

This season our league has 42 schools (up from 32 in 1979) that have entered. In the 5 areas where we have the greatest contration of teams, we have set up regions with the regional champions coming to Atlanta on March 15 for a championship tournament. For those teams in widely disbursed areas, we hold special one day Saturday tournaments where 4 or more teams can meet and play a 3 or 4 round tournament. The winners of these also gets seeded into the playoffs. So far both North Springs and Atkinson County have won one day tournaments, seeding them into the playoffs.

For further information about next years chess league contact a GCA officer.

As part of the chess league there are also elementary and junior high sections. Probably the two strongest schools in their divisions are Atco Junior High and the Hebrew Academy. Their two teams will be in a playoff with other elementary and Junior High Schools on March 8th at Northwoods Elementary School. Since their matches before March 8th are only practice it is hard to tell much, but Chapman Elementary of Woodstock and Forsyth County Middle school seem to be very strong. We also know that last years strong Oakcliff 7th grade team is intact as 8th graders at Sequoyah High School and that Riley, Pace Academy and Westminster all have strong teams.

The success of this program depends on the cooperation of many people. The GCA wants to thank all of those parents, teachers and students that have become involved in this great project. Below are listed all of the match results submitted to the GCA by 2-7-80. Please make sure your teams results were submitted.

CHESSMAN TEAMS AT THE PAN AM By Harold Winston

Pive teams came to the Pan Am from Chessman states: Florida (2080), Penn (2191), Swarthmore (2012), PennState (1757) and Arkansas (1521). Florida was the sensation of the tournament winning 7 matches out of 8 to win the championship. Florida started with a 3-1 win over IIT and a 4-0 shutout of California at Northridge. After its 2 1/2-1 1/2 defeat by Yale it edged Southern California 2 1/2-1 1/2 and followed with a 3 1/2-1/2 crush of Baruch (1888). Florida finished strong with 3 big wins over tough foes: knocking Purdue out of a tie for strong Minnesota team (2090) 2 1/2-1 1/2 to win it all.

Penn had placed in the top 2 for 3 straight years and was 4th ranked at the start. They lost two key matches in the first half of the tournament to Rhode Island College A (1994) and then to Chicago (2092), the last by 3 1/2-1/2: Penn then rallied to win their next 3 matches and were tied for 4th with 5-2 going into the finale. They faced Toronto (2208), the other team with 5 and lost 2 1/2-1 1/2 to finish 11th and get a share of 10th place money. This just wasn't Penn's year. Thier 3 masters, Tom Costigan, Rich Costigan, and Mark French all finished 4 1/2-3 1/2 as did their 4th board Robin Forman (1964). Swarthmore's result was a castrophe for a team ranked 14th at (2012). Playing lower rated teams 7 times out of 8 Swarthmore could only score 3 1/2 match points. Senior Master Steve Odendahl did his best with a board winning 7 1/2-1/2 on Bd. 1 but the rest of the team lagged far behine.

Less was expected of Penn State and Arkansas. PSU had one glorious moment when they upset Southern Cal., 160 points higher rated. Penn State finished 3 1/2-4 1/2 led by Ken Naugle 5-3 and Jess Goodman 4-4. Arkansas tied Illinois Valley even though playing one man short and their high scorer was Joe Bently 3-4. Arkansas was 38th rated out of 41 and constantly played stronger teams.

Frank Roemer now in Kentucky was re-elected ICLA Bulletin Editor while Mike Decker of Emory College, Georgia got another term as ICLA Faculty Advisor.

Chicago won the dispute with Yale so Chicago won the match 2 1/2-1 1/2 and finished 2nd with 6 1/2-1 1/2 while Yale was 3rd at 6-2

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Earle, At the tournament this past weekend, A couple of players wanted to know where they could buy Chess Life in Atlanta. The only place I know of 1s: The Bookworm, 7 Houston St He also carries The Chessman maybe you could put this info in TC. Regards, Bacon.

Dear JEM

Your comments about high editorial standards don't apply to amateurs annotating their own games. Intuition tells me that there are only a few players in the world who can make triple!!! moves. Apparently most of them live in Georgia!!!!!

Also- I have always felt that it was in Bad taste for an editor to punish his readers with the relentless publication of his own games. How do you spell relief???

All in all, I rate TC only fair. If the magazine were really good you wouldn't have the declines in GCA membership, etc. - and you wouldn't have to rely on captive or forced membership via state dues being attached to entry fees. Sincerely, Richard Haas

Single! indicates a good move, !! indicates a winning move. In many games one player makes a winning move it may be simply PxR, not necessarily anything hard to spot. To sees some moves that are far more than this Nd5 in Bruce Rind's game this issue is one of those, thus the !!! Bruce lives in Pa.

Most editors get to be editors because people enjoy their games, so not to print a game because it is yours is false modesty at its worst. This editor has not been accused of that. Frequently editors publish their own games because no others have been sent in.

The nature of economics is such that anything that goes up must come down. At one time the GCA membership was bigger than Ohio's or New York's much less Fl. or Pa., but the GCA became exhausted and then came the lean years. The Chessman came out before the peak and took the GCA up and then down or maybe didn't do anything to the GCA at all. In any case if TC could stop recessions in chess then economics would not be known as the dismal science.

Don't evaluate TC on the basis of some partial data that you might have, I am keenly aware of all the data and on the growth data TC is probably the strongest chess magazine in America, and I will predict that this trend will continue throughout 1980, now lets see. I will say this, however, I read and study alot of magazines, and in general I believe chess magazines are weak, relatively. A large portion of TC's circulation is forced as you call it, but a significant amount is not(see leter below), and that portion is growing fastest. —UEM.

Dear J. Earle,

As far as I am concerned, there is no "alternative" to The Chessman, a great publication. Keep up the excellent work. Enclosed you will find that I wish to acquire a 3 year subscription to The Chessman upon the expiration of my SCCA dues effective with your Nov

Regards Stan

PS Florida won't stand a chance vs. the 1980 edition of the Oklahoma State team at this year's Pan Am. Sorry Mark and Greq.

Dear Earle: ...I really enjoyed the last issue particularly the articles by Goichberg & Bert & the state divisions....

What do you think about having a TC editor meeting at the Open? (Fine-JEM)

...I agree with your standards. But also with Sc's editorial independence & disclaimer. By they anyway?). But the expression of opinions which are not in agreement with yours. This hasn't come up with NC yet, but I would like it covered. I hope SC stays in, let me know Tom Galloway what happens.

Rarely in \underline{TC} is there an editorial that I agree with unless it is one of mine. For instance I think the editorial by David Chu in this issue is off target, and there was no reason to print it except obviously David is sincere and has given the matter some thought Your editorial, "Viewpoint" seemed to me at the time, wrong. After some thought, however, I came to the "Viewpoint".

In re SC, they have decided to stay in $\frac{TC}{S}$. I think the key issue about an editorial is not what view is expressed, but has the writer done his homework, and is he responsible, or is he just "shooting from the hip", or taking a pot shot at some political opponent.

EMPIRE STATE JOINS CHESSMAN By Earle Morrison

Joe Lux, President of the New York State Chess Association and nationally known chess organizer, initiated talks which have resulted in an agreement for the New York State Chess Association joining The Chessman starting with the May-June 1980 issue. The New York State Chess Association is one of the oldest and most prestigeous in the country and Chessman editor Earle Morrison felt this addition would significantly improve the quality of the magazine, Morrison will serve as the N.Y. State Editor.

Publisher Morrison noted with delight that this breakthrough into the rich New York market assured The Chessman of continuing success.
