description

CLARIFICATION: All medical gas outlets are installed, and the piping is complete. Amico provides a manifold at the top of the headwall; the medical gas installer simply brings the gas lines to those manifold locations and ties the lines into that manifold for a "plug and play" connection.

Regarding electrical, the conduit and back boxes are pre-installed in the headwall. The electrician will be responsible for pulling power and data to the specific locations within the headwall.
