April Symbolism: Love and Beauty

April symbolism signifies that life will put you in hard situations in order to grow to become the person you admire in the future. In other words, you should not run away from the life that you want. In other words, the challenges you are facing now are to make you someone great. Perhaps, you need to work hard now and improve your ways. More so, try to move away from the people who are holding you back. Besides, you have everything that will transform your life to become someone great in life. Equally, you will someday be happy to take certain steps in your life

Keith's Thoughts

Spring is in the air and as I write this, I can still smell the orange blossom from our trees in the back yard. This is the time to get out and do things before the summer heat.

We have two events in April and one in May. Our committee is meeting soon to finalize several events in the fall that will be featured in our next newsletter. If you have any suggestions or requests for events then email us at aeroactivitiesclub@yahoo.com.

Barbara has organized a tour of the Arizona Capital Museum on Tuesday April 18th. The Arizona Capitol Museum's iconic copper dome is the centerpiece of Arizona's state government complex. Listed on the National Register of Historic Places and originally dedicated in 1901, the historic Capitol building housed the Arizona Territorial and State Legislature until 1960 and Executive Offices until 1974. The building was restored and rededicated as the Arizona Capitol Museum, officially opening in 1979. There is free parking there and the tour is timed so you miss Phoenix rush hour traffic.

The picnic is on Wednesday April 26th, 2023. Previously picnics have been on a Thursday so please do not get confused. As before we have joined with the Honeywell Retirees Social Club so we are expecting a good turnout. Last year I spoke to some members who said that they were not going as they do not know anyone and more. Well, this is your chance to make new friends. The event is free for our club members + spouse/Significant other/friend. If you invite a third person, we will charge them $10 to cover our costs. To ensure we have sufficient food please read the article and use the sign-up process. Larry Bowe is organizing the event and contact details are on the event page. Pictures of past picnics are on our website HERE. See how many people you can recognize.

In May we have the Arizona Canal Bike ride organized by Kevin and follows the canal for 5 miles. Path is fairly flat and goes past the Wrigley Mansion, the Biltmore Estates, the massive Phoenix Water Works, some very interesting back yards and OSHO Brewery, ending at the Arizona Falls power generating station at G.R. Herberger Park, 5802 E. Indian School.

There are still a few people who have not renewed their membership so I would encourage you to do it and hopefully you find the club of value. Check out the last pages of the newsletter for instructions on renewing your membership and updating your information. As a retiree club it is a fact of life that over time we lose members, so it is important that we continue to recruit new members to keep the club going. Please help us recruit new members by passing along our website and sign-up information. Our membership is open to anybody who has ever worked in any division of Honeywell and its predecessors.

In next month's issue we will be talking more about our membership drive and how you can help.

Our Wings Newsletter publisher, Joyce Colella, includes information on interesting events happening around the valley, including those that offer senior discounts. This month we have included information on a unique workshop being offered by the Musical Instrument Museum, Memory Care and Music. We hope you find this information beneficial.

The website address for past newsletters, event photos etc. is AeroActivitiesClub.com

Live long and prosper and I hope to see you at future events...

GETTING TO WORK

By Van

Every weekday around 6:15 a.m., Bob Wharton, an employee of AG Communications, turns the ignition key of a 15-passenger van and heads out to pick up passengers for the ride from Chandler to North Phoenix.

The cost of the van is subsidized by the city of Phoenix and supported by monthly fares from a group of East Valley employees who work at Honeywell, American Express, Best Western and AG.

The van makes pick-ups at three shopping center locations before heading onto the Superstition Freeway at Rural Road in Tempe.

About 10 people are aboard the van daily, although the passenger list varies depending on whether people need to drive themselves. Besides myself, other Commercial Flight Systems Group employees on this van include Joan Chi, Jay Van, Fariba Faramarzi, Michelle Terrin, Bala Nair and Lance Serrao.

The monthly fare also varies, depending on the price of gas, but it usually costs about $60 for full-time riders. Honeywell also pitches

Pride photos by Guy Mancuso

Vanpool passengers climb in for fast ride home to East Valley in a small subsidy for employees, so the cost per day ends up about $2.13 per rider. This beats the cost of gas alone by about 50 cents per day.

It's not just the money, though. The 66-mile round trip, with daily traffic jams, can be a grueling journey for a single driver every day. On the van, riders are almost unaware of the traffic.

Typically, people read, nap or chat in the van, which arrives at CFSG around 7:20 a.m. Although the radio is piped through the vehicle, some bring headsets and one person has a portable phone that he occasionally uses to make calls. Some days, one of the riders will bring donuts or cookies.

Do you ride to work alone?

Single-occupant vehicles contribute to air pollution in Phoenix and are keeping Commercial Flight Systems Group from complying with Maricopa County's travel reduction program.

The Honeywell pick-up for the ride home is at the Northwest lobby of the 19th Avenue facility. The van is due at 4:12 p.m. and normally waits a few minutes until all the people who were riding in the morning have boarded.

Occasionally, someone will make other arrangements for getting home and forget to tell anyone. After a few minutes, the van leaves, whether you're on it or not.

Reversing the morning's route, and traveling in the far left carpool lane all the way to Tempe, the van drops off the first batch of riders about 4:50 p.m. The only way a single driver in his own car could beat the van's time home is by waiting until traffic has eased up - after 7 p.m. or so. The van's big advantage is that it can use the carpool lanes, which not only saves a lot of time but frustration as well.

— Jim Veihdeffer

INCENTIVES FOR EMPLOYEES CARPOOLING/VANPOOLING:

- Preferred parking close to facilities.
■ Monthly drawing for a vacation day and other prizes.
■ Computerized ZIP code match list.
■ Emergency ride home program (approximately three free rides each year).

FOR VANPOOLERS:

- A monthly discount on RPTA vanpool fare.

INFORMATION: From any Rideshare Bulletin Board in Phoenix facilities, or call 436-5321.

By Air

For Michael Christensen, commuting means flying with fellow employees George Graves and Steve Cravens. Each morning they take Christensen's Piper Cherokee 140 from Mesa's Falcon Field to Deer Valley Airport to avoid rush-hour traffic.

"I enjoy flying into work," said Christensen, principal engineer in customer engineering at Commercial Flight Systems Group. "It's a lot less stressful than driving."

Christensen said his flying time is 13 minutes with the total trip taking 45 minutes. He estimated driving would take an hour or more, depending on traffic.

"By flying to work, there are a few less cars on the road adding to our valley's pollution problem," said Christensen, who's been flying to work for the past five years.

—Linda Schmidt

Chester Wylie bikes his way to the bus

By Bus

Chester Wylie has been commuting to work by bus for the past two years. He even rides his bicycle to the bus stop.

"I found busing to work to be quite economical," said Wylie, an engineering lab technician in helicopter systems applications at Business and Commuter Aviation Systems Division. "I sold my car two years ago and the money I'm saving on insurance alone will buy my bus pass for one year."

Wylie also has taken advantage of the benefits Honeywell offers to commuters. He uses the lockers that are provided, buys bus passes at a reduced rate through Employee Services, and within the last year has won a vacation day.

"Even though the bus ride is about 40 minutes, I enjoy it by reading or just relaxing," he said.

—Linda Schmidt

FOR EMPLOYEES BICYCLING/WALKING:

- Shower and locker facilities at Deer Valley, Bell Road and Union Hills.
■ Monthly drawing for a vacation day and other prizes.
■ Secure area for bikes near guard stations.
■ Emergency ride home program.

FOR EMPLOYEES TAKING THE BUS:

- Discounted bus passes and tickets in Employee Services.
■ Bus books and schedules available in Employee Services.
■ Monthly drawing for a vacation day and other prizes.
■ Emergency ride home program.

Desert Botanical Gardens

Free admission days, Second Tues of each month - 8AM - 6PM

The Desert Botanical Garden has free admission on the second Tuesday of the month from the hours of 8-6 PM. The garden and the neighboring Phoenix Zoo are accessible from the bus line; however, not by the light rail.

Best advice is to check the bus schedule, as times and bus numbers are subject to change.

Desert Botanical Garden is a 140-acre botanical garden located in Papago Park, at 1201 N. Galvin Parkway in Phoenix, central Arizona.

Founded by the Arizona Cactus and Native Flora Society in 1937 and established at this site in 1939, the garden now has more than 50,000 plants, in more than 4,000 taxa, one-third of which are native to the area, including 379 species, which are rare, threatened or endangered.

Information: Botanical Gardens

ALL guests (members or general admission guests) are required to register and have a timed-entry ticket prior to entry to the Garden.

Culture Pass, available at any Phoenix City Library

Benefits:

Two-person admission passes, good for one week, are available to a variety of places including:

- Arcosanti - Sedona Heritage Museum
- Cave Creek Museum, Desert Caballeros Museum,
- Heard Museum, Superstition Mountain Museum,
- Desert Botanical Garden, Pueblo Grande Museum
- Cosanti - Cosanti is the gallery and studio of Italian-American architect Paolo Soleri
- Phoenix Art Museum, Scottsdale Museum of Contemporary Art,
- Reid Park Zoo, U of A Museum of Art,

People with a Phoenix City Library card can go on the website for more information and may be able to reserve them online. Only a certain number of passes are given out each month.

Honeywell Clubs Fix-It Guys Program

Sponsored by Honeywell, Garrett & Aero Activities Clubs

We help Honeywell retirees or surviving spouses with fix-it jobs around the house.

This program is designed to keep the job from being a budget buster for you.

Call our Coordinator: Frank Holman @ 602-695-2565 to schedule a trip to your home.

If you reach voice mail, leave a clear message giving job information, your name, telephone number and nearest cross streets. We will get back with you to schedule a visit.

Are YOU Handy?

Your Clubs really need your help!

We're hiring!!!

You don't have to be a contractor level kind of handyman—just generally handy around the house.

Some of you may have special skills (Computer/Plumbing/Electrical/Drywall) that can significantly help our members in need. Why not try it?

Call: Frank Holman 602-695-2565 - We would love to talk with you!

The table below lists our current Fix-It Guys Team.

Thanks guys—for all that you do.

Looking for new board members

The Aero Activities Club currently has 13 Board members working to keep the Club going. As the Club gets older so do, we.

Several of these members have been on the board for many years. If anything was to happen to them or they resign from the Board, the Aero Activities Club could be in jeopardy. To keep AAC from being at risk we need more Board members.

If you can spare a little time and like to work with others, please contact any one of the Board Members on page 2. What do you get for doing this? The same as us, the pleasure of knowing you are keeping a legend going.
