POSITION DESCRIPTIONS

Axe Throwing Coach

Our axe throwing coaches have two primary responsibilities: Keep our axe throwers safe and keep them entertained! Axe throwing coaches are passionate, dynamic, energetic, and fun-loving individuals who enjoy sports, outdoor activities, working with groups, teaching, and/or coaching. You don't have to have experience throwing an axe – we'll teach you that! As an axe throwing coach, you'll make sure all axe throwing procedures and safety protocols are followed, teach our patrons proper throwing techniques, ensure our axe throwing lanes are always event ready, and make sure every guest feels welcome by providing friendly and courteous service! Note that you must be 18 or older to be an axe throwing coach.

Bartender

At Lumber Jack's Lodge, our bartenders are typically the first team members that our guests will encounter – so it's up to you to set the bar high (pun intended!) and make sure that every patron and guest is welcome, served promptly, and wants to come back! As a bartender, you'll be responsible for taking all food/drink orders, serving drink orders, and restocking drink inventory and bar supplies. You'll be responsible for all point of sale interactions, working with guests to open and close tabs and ensure all tabs are paid – while staying customer focused! Note that you must be 21 or older to be a bartender.

Cook

Love to cook? Come join our team and help run the kitchen! Our cooks are responsible for preparing all our yummy menu items and ensuring food orders are filled promptly and correctly. You'll start each day prepping kitchen workstations and equipment, then multitask to keep up with a steady flow of food orders, finally ending the day by cleaning and prepping for tomorrow. Our cooks are also responsible for keeping up with food stocks and kitchen supplies, ensuring management knows what and when new items need to be ordered.

Server

Servers at Lumber Jack's Lodge wear several hats – but keeping our customers happy is the most important one! As a server, you'll take food orders out to customer tables (or axe throwing lanes), ensure food orders are correct when delivered, bus tables once customers leave, and help keep every nook and cranny clean and presentable. You'll also help axe throwing customers check-in and sign waivers, ensuring all axe throwers have wrist bands before they begin their axe throwing session.
