About Me

Danella is a professional actor and model who resides in Whitehorse, Yukon. She started her professional career in film and modeling in July 2024 and has since secured roles in local and national commercials, several short films, and one of her biggest highlights: an international campaign for a boutique fashion brand.

"The Futuristic Rogue," "The Psycho Ex," or "The Tortured Soul" - with her mixed-ethnicity background and the ability to convey a broad spectrum of emotions, Danella is capable of portraying a large range of character archetypes. Additionally, her background as a former figure skater provides her with strong physical awareness and control, making her well-suited for physically demanding roles.
