

Animal project

IBA's animal project has a goal of helping families and individuals start a viable business raising farm animals. Recipients receive animals from IBA free of charge, and must repay with offspring, or when that is not an option, such as with broiler chickens, with cash once the animals are sold.

See reverse for more details

Animals offered through this project are varied, but include:

- Rabbits
- Pigs
- Goats
- Sheep
- Chickens
- Bees

INTERNATIONAL BROTHERHOOD AID

IBA endeavors to draw people to Christ, and teach good stewardship and sustainable living

Recipients of animals through the animal project receive guidance on animal care, including vaccinations, de-worming, and feed nutrition.

A Ukrainian villager with broiler chickens obtained through IBA's animal project. Repayment was made once the broilers were sold.

A pig, obtained through IBA's animal project, with piglets, a few of which were returned to IBA as repayment.

Donations to this project can be mailed to the address below. Any questions, please contact IBA's animal project representative Homer Kinsinger at (301) 616-4381. Donations exceeding this project's needs will be used where needed most.
