

Grain Drying IN 2021

Grain drying increases the value of the farmer's grain. He can store the grain to sell at a later date when the price is better. We provide this service for a fee. This helps to cover the cost of the project and also helps our missionaries support themselves. It also provides a lot of opportunities to interact with people we otherwise would not meet. We are also very grateful for the young people that come from the US to help with this project. 🌾

Animal Project

We helped a young lady from the MIM church in Krivishinsi with some laying hens. She had some difficulties with sickness in the birds but she was able to research the problem and save most of them. She is very grateful for the opportunity to learn how to work with chickens and she looks forward to having them produce well. 🌾

Baling Project

We went to visit two of the ladies that had been helped with baling hay during the summer. The first was an old widow who lived by herself. At first she was not sure about having people visit her. But she soon warmed up to us and told us some about her life. It is not an easy life. She works as much as she still can to support herself. She told us all about a robbery that happened to her. She was severely beaten and had a large sum of money taken. It was a very traumatic experience for her. She cried as she told us about it. She was very grateful for the hay that we had baled for her. She was able to sell it for some additional income.

The second lady was a middle aged lady that had quite a few bales that IBA had done for her. She and her husband help support their family with cows. She uses all the hay to feed her cows. She was so happy that her hay was baled and that she did not have to handle loose hay. 🌿
