Item 3: Disciplinary Information

The SEC requires that I disclose to clients and prospective clients any disciplinary activity which material information would be impacting the client's ability to make an informed decision with regard to engaging my services. As such I am required to disclose any administrative, legal or regulatory events which occurred within the last ten years or those events which may have occurred more than 10 years ago, but which would still be material to your decision-making process. Such events may include without limitation: suspension or revocation of a license or designation; an administrative proceeding brought by a state, federal or foreign regulatory agency as well as any self-regulatory organization; imposition of a civil fine or penalty or arbitration award of more than $2,500; the filing or participation in a bankruptcy petition; involvement in an arbitration or criminal action whereby I have plead guilty, no contest or have been convicted of a felony or a misdemeanor involving, investment related activities, fraud, making of false statements, conversion of property, perjury, forgery or counterfeiting; or conspiracy to commit any such misdemeanor. As a result of these requirements, I note that there are no reportable disciplinary disclosures.

Item 4: Other Business Activities

Mr. Christopher Moore has a financial industry affiliated business as a Registered Representative. Not more than 30% of his time is spent on these activities. From time to time, he offers clients advice or products from this activity. He may receive separate yet typical compensation in the form of commissions for the sale of securities products.

This practice represents a conflict of interest because it gives Mr. Moore an incentive to recommend products based on the commission amount received. This conflict is mitigated by the fact that Mr. Moore has a fiduciary responsibility to place the best interest of the client first and the clients are not required to purchase any products. Clients have the option to purchase these products through another representative of their choosing.

Item 5: Additional Compensation

Mr. Moore does not receive any economic benefit from anyone, who is not a client, for providing advisory services.

Item 6: Supervision

Mr. Moore is supervised by Edward Woolery, President and CCO of DST Wealth Management. Mr. Woolery can be reached at (858) 449-3545. We supervise Mr. Moore by requiring that he adhere to our processes and procedures as described in our firm's Compliance Manual and Code of Ethics and through monitoring his activities accordingly.
