

Going back to the river
Don't know what they might say
Guess I'm hoping to find
There is nothing left behind
And tomorrow will be just like today

Going back to that first time
I didn't know what to do
When you opened your eyes
I materialized
And I gave all my meaning to you

There were some didn't love me
Others who don't comprehend
This river's so wide
We've been standing beside
But like love, it can come to an end

Take me back to that river
Tell me what I should say
Please allow me to find
Any grace left behind
I am ready to leave here today

Take me back to the first time
Show me what I should do
Please open my eyes
And materialize
Let me know that it really is you

Make me know you forgive me
With love that I can't comprehend
Make the gates open wide
And then lead me inside
The tomorrow that never will end

Going back to the river.
