

Just to prove that love is blind
I left my house in winter time
Put the ice and snow behind
And set out on the sea.

Weigh the anchor, hoist the sails
Round to the bow we're under way
Run wherever wind prevails
And set out on the sea

CHORUS:

Upon the wind
The salty sea
The sinking moon
Searches for me
The downhill run
Spinnaker spar
How high the sun
How cold the stars
My sorrow's gone
I set it free
To carry on and set out on the sea

Maybe in some early time
Before I settled past my prime
I gathered in all that was mine
And set out on the sea

And now those memories return
To rake my soul from stem to stern
Until my restless spirit yearns
To set out on the sea

CHORUS:

Upon the wind
The salty sea
The sinking moon
Searches for me
The downhill run
Spinnaker spar
How high the sun
How cold the stars
My sorrow's gone
I set it free
To carry on and set out on the sea
