

Maher Rusho <maru4732@colorado.edu>

ME-EM: Congratulations on Your ME-EM Degree Admission

1 message

University of Colorado Boulder <emp-coursera@colorado.edu>
Reply-To: emp-coursera@colorado.edu
To: maher.rusho@colorado.edu

Wed, Nov 8, 2023 at 3:58 PM

Graduate School

Dear Maher Rusho,

Congratulations! We are pleased to inform you that after the successful completion of the pathway specialization, you have now been officially admitted to the Master of Engineering Management (ME-EM) on Coursera degree program at the University of Colorado Boulder.

As a CU Boulder degree student, you will join a community of faculty, staff, and students committed to outstanding scholarly achievement and diversity that will prepare you to be a leader in your field.

As you already know, the ME-EM on Coursera offers stackable graduate-level courses and a fully accredited master's degree in Engineering Management. Students in this program earn the same credentials as our on-campus students. That means there are no designations that this is an online program on your official CU transcripts, certificates or degrees. Learn more on the Engineering Management website.

The ME-EM on Coursera Student Handbook will remain a valuable resource for you as an admitted graduate student. Remember that graduation requirements in effect at the time of your admission to the ME-EM on Coursera program will apply to you during your course of study.

As always, please continue to send any questions to emp-coursera@colorado.edu. We look forward to supporting you through the rest of your time with the ME-EM program.

Once again, congratulations on your admission to the University of Colorado Boulder!

Warm regards,
The Engineering Management Program

Engineering Management

University of Colorado Boulder | emp-coursera@colorado.edu
