

Meet the Divine Core Transformation Board

Dr. Rhonda Smith

President

Dr. Rhonda Smith is the Owner and CEO of Renewed Health Care Services and Divine Core Transformation, and the founder of The Academy of Hope Foundation, an online school that provides education and prevention programs. As a healthcare provider, coach, and leader, she is dedicated to empowering individuals and helping communities heal and thrive. A published author of eight books, Dr. Rhonda, has committed her career to transformation, leadership, and personal development. She is also a proud Goldman Sachs 10,000 Small Businesses Program Alumna (2025), demonstrating her dedication to entrepreneurial excellence and business growth. Dr. Rhonda actively serves her community through leadership and service. She is a board member of the Ohio Reentry Program for Ex-Offenders, Women in Christian Leadership, and the Girl Scouts of Western Ohio. She also volunteers at the Dayton Correctional Institution and is a member of the Dayton (OH) Chapter of The Links, Incorporated. Her commitment to service has earned her recognition as a WBIN Powerful Women of Impact Honoree (2022) and the recipient of the Heart of Gold Award from Eta Phi Beta Sorority, Incorporated for her work uplifting and strengthening communities. Dr. Rhonda is deeply passionate about restoring women and men to wholeness. In her practice, she coaches women who have experienced abusive or toxic relationships, as well as individuals struggling with addiction and behavioral health challenges. She has also trained with renowned psychotherapist Ross Rosenberg in the Human Magnet Syndrome Model, expanding her expertise in the pathology of toxic relationships.

Motto: “I don’t look like what I’ve been through, and I have GOD to thank for that!”

Jasmine Cox
Vice President

Jasmine Cox is an executive administrative professional with more than nine years of experience supporting CEOs and senior leadership teams. She specializes in operational efficiency, executive support strategy, and organizational coordination. Jasmine has studied global business and marketing and served as a Student Ambassador for the United States. She currently contributes to mission-driven initiatives within the Social Security Administration. As Vice President, she brings disciplined administrative leadership, strategic organization, and operational clarity to the board.

Lucretia Bowman

Strategic Advisor

Lucretia Bowman is a nationally recognized recovery leader with more than three decades of experience advancing transformational programs for individuals overcoming life-controlling challenges. She co-founded Having the Courage to Change with her husband, Charles, a pioneering recovery initiative that later merged with City Gospel Mission in 1998 due to its demonstrated impact and growth. As Executive Vice President of Community Engagement at City Gospel Mission, she expanded recovery services and led the development of a $6.2 million residential facility in Mt. Auburn, serving 33 women, opened in July 2023. She is currently leading the creation of 12 affordable housing units designed to reduce barriers and expand economic opportunity for individuals in recovery. Lucretia is the recipient of the CGM Leadership Award, the APPLAUSE! Magazine Image Maker for Advocacy Award, and the CGM Outstanding Centennial Leadership Award. An accomplished author of Breaking the Cycle of Self-Abuse and Unlocking the Incarcerated Mind, her work forms the foundation of the CGM Recovery Program curriculum and continues to influence recovery leadership nationwide.

A'Maria Carter

Financial Secretary

A'Maria Carter serves as Program Coordinator for Prevention and Early Intervention at the Montgomery County ADAMHS Board. She holds a Master of Arts in Applied Behavioral Science and is a certified Ohio Prevention Specialist Assistant. Her work focuses on prevention programming, public health strategy, and community-level behavioral health initiatives. She has also served as Adjunct Professor and was recognized as Adjunct of the Year at Wright State University. She contributes systems-level expertise and strategic engagement insight to Divine Core Transformation.

Marchelle Hopson, RN

Secretary

Marchelle Hopson is a registered nurse, healthcare entrepreneur, and advocate with over 17 years of clinical experience, including extensive leadership in pediatric home healthcare. She is the founder of Truly Pediatric Home Care, created in response to the unmet needs of medically complex children and families navigating care in the home setting. Grounded in both clinical practice and organizational leadership, Marchelle brings a patient-centered, equity-focused perspective to her board service. Her work is guided by a commitment to quality, accountability, and community impact, contributing healthcare-informed governance and strategic insight to Divine Core Transformation.

Casey Hall, AAS, LPN

Executive Assistant

Casey Hall, AAS, LPN is a licensed Practical Nurse with over ten years of experience in psychiatric and addiction nursing. She holds an Associate of Applied Science degree and has worked extensively in medication-assisted treatment (MAT), as well as in residential inpatient and outpatient settings serving both men and women. Casey is deeply committed to a holistic approach to care, recognizing is a licensed Practical Nurse with over ten years of experience in psychiatric and addiction nursing. She holds an Associate of Applied Science degree and has worked extensively in medication-assisted treatment (MAT) and normalizing the strong connection between mental health, past trauma, and substance use. She believes that addressing these elements together is essential for achieving long-term recovery and personal growth. Her compassionate, client-centered approach reflects her dedication to helping individuals heal and thrive.

Mistie Layne

Fundraising & Development

Mistie Gengo is a certified Nuclear Medicine Technologist and empowerment-based program founder who integrates clinical expertise with transformational leadership initiatives. She is the creator of Tween Esteem Camps for girls ages 9–12 and Write 2 Ignite Women's Empowerment Retreats, where participants develop confidence, financial literacy, entrepreneurial thinking, and narrative tools that transform adversity into purpose-driven impact. Mistie is a six-time international best-selling author, developmental writer, and ghostwriter who equips others to publish and share their stories with clarity and courage. She previously hosted Dare 2 Share with Mistie Layne on e360tv and serves as Vice President of the Chemobuddies 4 Life nonprofit board. Her combined clinical precision, narrative leadership, and community-building experience strengthen Divine Core Transformation's fundraising and development strategy.

Terrance Auster Jr.

Media & Communications

Terrance Auster Jr. is a creative professional and owner of Taj Mahal Designs, specializing in graphic design, photography, and videography. He brings experience developing visual branding and digital media content for mission-driven organizations. His expertise ensures cohesive brand identity, strategic storytelling, and professional public presence for Divine Core Transformation.

Sheila Winston

Treasurer

Sheila Winston is a faith-driven entrepreneur, nonprofit leader, and growth and sustainability advisor with more than 20 years of executive leadership and business ownership experience. As the founder of SheilaMarie LLC, she built and sustained a women-focused design business rooted in excellence, confidence, and purpose. She previously served as Owner and CEO of a youth-focused nonprofit organization and later as Chairman of the Great Linden Business Network Committee in Columbus, where she helped strengthen governance structure, strategic planning, and community engagement initiatives. With corporate experience at Chase Mortgage Corporation and current work in a private corporation's audit department, Sheila brings governance insight, compliance awareness, sponsorship development expertise, and a solutions-oriented approach to sustainable organizational growth.