A Thanksgiving Message From The Commissioner

Thanksgiving is nearly here followed by the transition towards our preparations for Christmas and the reflections that come with a new year. This time of year is always special as we gather with family, friends, and loved ones to ponder all that we are thankful for, give gifts to celebrate blessings from God, and endeavor to be better when the calendar turns over.

As we bring this year to a close, I want to take some time to take stock of all we have accomplished in 2024. Once again, your Commissioners Court cut the County tax rate below the "No New Revenue Rate" and provided a real tax cut for taxpayers. We have done this while continuing to make investments in our community's future through mental health and law enforcement. Construction is well underway on the new state-of-the-art Mental Health Wellness Center that includes an extended observation unit and respite unit that will serve as a critical part of addressing mental health challenges in Galveston County. Our continued fiscal responsibility has led to yet another year of maintaining our perfect Aaa bond rating. We also continue to reduce the public debt, which has been reduced by XX% since 2017, while still investing in infrastructure for our future and maintaining reserves for potential natural disasters.

This holiday season, I am humbled by all the many things this past year has brought. On election day this year, you all re-elected me as your Commissioner for Precinct 1. I am so grateful for the groundswell of support and want to thank each and every one of you for putting your trust in me. Serving you as your voice and representative is not something I take lightly, and you have my unwavering commitment that I will never stop fighting for you and Precinct 1. We will continue the work of the past four years with the same tenacity and dedication that has made our community the best in Texas. This includes making our county government more efficient, investing in public safety, and making drainage and infrastructure a top priority.

As we prepare for the Thanksgiving holiday and begin thinking of what we are most thankful for, the answer is always a simple one for me. My family is the engine that keeps me moving forward. My beautiful wife, Pam, is my rock and keeps me grounded in what is important.

I am so proud of my three amazing children and their spouses who are building the next chapter for our community. Lastly, my six lively grandchildren bring me endless joy and remind me that we are fighting for the next generation that will call Galveston County home.

We accomplished so much in 2024 and 2025 is looking even better! Pam and I wish everyone a Happy Thanksgiving, Merry Christmas, and Happy New Year. May the joy and happiness of this season be felt by you and your family!

The Elections Are Over...

Almost, somehow there are a few races that have not been called as of EPP press time. The knowledge of who won the presidency on election night was delightful and should be the norm. In Galveston County there was one dark event in that Jimmy Fullen won the election to be Sheriff. Astonishingly, a man who could not be hired as a deputy was elected to run the whole department. In January based on EPP's understanding, Jimmy will have a hearing on the issue of whether he will lose his license to be a law enforcement officer in the State of Texas. Things could get very interesting when that process is complete and EPP will bring that information to its readers.

Happy Thanksgiving!

With the opportunity to return the country to rational governance and the fact that the United States is still where most of the world would like to live, there is much to be thankful for in 2024. No pandemic insanity to drive people apart, Texas and Texans remaining strong and independent and the folks of Galveston County escaping hurricane season with a storm that while damaging, was definitely on the mild side. Taking at least one day to give thanks for all of our benefits and blessings. EPP thanks its loyal readers, advertisers and the freedom of the press and looks forward to continue to bring information and opinion to those who are interested. Happy Thanksgiving, the celebration is justified.

San Leon And More Celebrate Veterans Day

San Leon never misses an opportunity for a parade and this year's Veterans Day was no exception. With a parade that included a marching band, ROTC, golf carts, fire trucks, a helicopter flyover and various ceremonies to honor the men and women who are serving and have served, the event was impressive and well deserved. Bacliff, San Leon and Dickinson fire departments participated as they work together when fire or disaster strikes the area through their mutual aid agreements. The citizens of San Leon are particularly supportive of our Veterans not just because so many reside in the community but because they have patriotism ingrained in their hearts. EPP is proud to show a few photos that capture the spirit of the day and commemorate those who keep us free.

NEVER FAIL PIE CRUST

- 1 1/2 tsp. salt
- 3 cups flour, sifted
- 1 cup lard or 1 1/4 cups shortening
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1/3 cup water
- 1 Tbsp. vinegar

Work together flour, salt and shortening. Add other ingredients and mix well. The more you work it the better. Refrigerate for a while. Should make 4 to 5 crusts.

She's Not Done Yet...

But progress on the lighting at Spillway Park continues to be made. While four or five security/area lights remain to be repaired or replaced, EPP can report that two more fixtures have been replaced and are working now. The dark and desolate park is gradually becoming inviting and better lit. Out of control vegetation is being managed back into a respectable condition and the park is no longer an embarrassment to the taxpayers that fund it. EPP says keep the progress coming.... Good or bad, the results will be reported here.
