

RE: Character Reference for Daniel Lindsey

To Whom it Concerns,

I was contacted by Daniel Lindsey asking that I provide you with a character reference, and would be more than happy to share my impressions. I have known Dan for 25 years and had the pleasure to follow and watch him grow as a person from a young man in New York, to his moves to Chicago, Seattle, and now Baltimore.

Although I have never worked with Dan directly, I can see many positive attributes from his personal life that he would bring to his employer. He is extremely organized, excels at efficiency, is trustworthy, and has an excellent rapport with people from all walks of life. He follows through with everything he gets his hands on, and has made mention of his passion for his career path: all noteworthy traits. Not to be discounted are his creative capacities; a gifted artist, he infuses an aesthetic appreciation to all his efforts.

I highly recommend Dan for the project management position that he is pursuing. I am confident he will be a valuable asset for your organization. If I can be of any further assistance to expand on my recommendation, please don't hesitate to contact me

Sincerely,
