Ode to Bailey

~~~Laura Williams

Running streets in West PA
Couldn't seem to find his way
Thinning body patchy hair
Learning life can be unfair
In a Shelter numbered days
Lonely dogs in separate bays
A caring worker searched the logs
And called the Ones who love red dogs
Bailey's network started there
It grew just like his patchy hair
He moved a bit from place to place
While setter ladies made his case
"Bailey's good" they always said
These ladies loved the dogs of red
Briefly landed in a home
Only to return alone
Some things are not meant to be
Bailey thinks "What's wrong with me?"
The Shelter's gone thank God for that
And I am fed, I get my pats
My crate is clean, they wash my face
They give a loving warm embrace
But I can tell it's not my home
I want a Mom to call my own
And who would know what was in store
a lady down in Baltimore
Was searching on a google site
And ran across my crazy plight
She had a red dog many years
Who passed in spring, which left her tears

She has another little red
But I know math, that leaves one bed
In chatting with the other pups
We all agreed, that something's up
Anticipation surely growing
My foster Mommy's face is glowing
A few days later my new Mom and friend
Began to put my heart on the mend
They drove up North packed me up in the car
And all the way home made me feel like a star
Now I got a chip,. And I got a tag
I got a huge crate with a big down bag
My water's cold and my food taste great
Got a shadow box fence with a big wood gate
I have a little sister who don't mind the play
But best of all, I've been asked to stay!
