OnPoint Precision Spray Announces Master Distributor Agreement with AgTech Logic Revolutionizing Golf, Sports Turf, Pavement, and Agriculture Industries Across North America

Tampa, FL – January 20, 2025 – OnPoint Precision Spray is excited to announce a new Master Distributor Agreement with AgTech Logic, becoming the exclusive distributor for the golf, sports turf, and pavement industries, as well as a non-exclusive distributor for the agriculture sector. This agreement brings AgTech Logic’s patented artificial intelligence (AI) technology to the North American marketplace, delivering unprecedented efficiencies in chemical application, labor, and fuel usage.

AgTech Logic’s patented AI technology is a breakthrough in smart chemical application solutions. It utilizes advanced algorithms to identify invasive species in real-time, applying treatments only where and when necessary. This precise approach reduces chemical usage by more than 50%, significantly lowers fuel consumption, and minimizes labor requirements, offering a sustainable and cost-effective solution for a range of industries.

“This partnership with AgTech Logic underscores our commitment to innovation and sustainability,” said Chris Wojcik, President and CEO of OnPoint Precision Spray. “Their AI technology is transformative, and we are thrilled to lead the charge in bringing these benefits to customers in the turf, pavement, and agricultural markets through a soon to be established new dealer network.”

Expanding Sustainable Practices Across Industries

Through this partnership, OnPoint Precision Spray will provide golf course Superintendents, sports turf managers, pavement maintenance professionals, and agricultural producers with access to cutting-edge technology that:

- Reduces Chemical Usage: Minimizes waste by targeting only invasive species.
- Decreases Fuel Consumption: Cuts equipment run time through optimized applications.
- Lowers Labor Costs: Improves efficiency, reducing time and resources required for application.
- Supports Sustainability: Helps customers meet eco-friendly and regulatory standards.
- Data Management: Provides GPS data-sets of general and potential problem conditions.

“AgTech Logic’s mission is to make sustainability simple, effective, and scalable,” said Tom Gauthier, CEO of AgTech Logic. “By partnering with OnPoint Precision Spray, we are confident that our technology will create a lasting positive impact across North America, empowering industries to reduce costs and protect the environment.”

Distribution Highlights

- Exclusive Distributor: OnPoint Precision Spray will exclusively distribute AgTech Logic's technology to the golf, sports turf, and pavement industries.
 - Non-Exclusive Distributor: OnPoint will also bring these innovations to the agricultural market as a key distribution partner.
