"...I have served over four years in the U.S. Marine Corps infantry with two deployments overseas and have had extensive training in Marine Corps hand-to-hand combat and the Marine Corps Martial Arts Program (MCMAP). I can confidently say that the training at ITDS is ...better than what is currently being taught to Marines today. The training

I have done with ITDS has given me more skill and confidence in threatening situations and it has proven its effectiveness I would highly recommend ITDS training for any military or law enforcement personnel or to any civilian who thinks they may find themselves in a potentially violent or life threatening situation. Whether you are heading on a deployment overseas or are looking to protect your family or classroom in today's increasingly violent society, ITDS can teach you the skills needed to neutralize or terminate any threat that you may encounter."

3 STEPS IS ALL IT TAKES TO SHUT DOWN YOUR ATTACKER!

PROJECTATHENA™:

Defeating Violence Against Women

Do you worry about walking home or being on campus alone? Do you become anxious walking to your car in a secluded area or when entering an elevator late at night?

The reality is that every 6 minutes a woman over the age of 18 is raped, and among women attending college 1 in 4 will be a victim to violent sexual assault.

Participants learn about Proactive Protection methods such as:

- How to shut down the only weapon that can harm you
- Situational awareness tactics,
- Initial response to unwanted attention
- Pre-assault Indicators
- Crucial difference between social and criminal, asocial violence
- Risk minimization during confrontation

Clients attending our seminar will be able to immediately understand and use the three simple principles required to properly use the TAC2™ system to render your would-be assailant unable to act. These techniques are designed to disable your attacker and create an opportunity for you to escape to gain safety and seek assistance.

Remember that no camera, light, phone, or intercom system can stop an attack.

ONLY YOU CAN PROTECT YOU!

Our system is based upon the principles of ITDS' TAC2™ SYSTEM.

This Tactical Articulation Control COMbatives is designed to use human physiology and its reflexive reaction system to stop the attacker—it makes size, ability and intent irrelevant.
