Anna Pepping Sliding Fee Scale and Agreement

A sliding fee scale is available on a limited basis to clients who are uninsured or who are not using insurance for these services and who demonstrate financial need. The standard fee is $150 per 55-minute session, and the minimum approved fee is $75. Approval depends on financial need and available sliding-scale openings and is not guaranteed.

Fees are based on gross household income from the most recent month. Please provide a recent tax return, pay stub, Social Security or disability benefit statement, unemployment documentation, or another reliable form of income verification. Documentation should be provided before the first session. Until income is verified and a reduced fee is approved, the standard $150 fee applies.

Gross household income	No dependents	1 dependent	2 or more dependents
Less than $20,000	$80	$75	$75
$20,001-$40,000	$90	$85	$80
$40,001-$60,000	$105	$100	$95
$60,001-$80,000	$125	$120	$115
$80,001 or more	$150	$150	$150

Dependents are individuals claimed as dependents for tax or benefit purposes. The office may request clarification when household circumstances are unusual.

Please be prepared to pay a minimum of $75 before your first session begins. Any remaining amount due is expected prior to leaving the office after your first session. At succeeding sessions, please be prepared to pay the amount agreed upon before your session begins. Please see the “Scheduling & Fees Policy” regarding charges for missed sessions.

By signing below, you agree to the following fees for treatment. This agreement will be in effect for 1 year unless revised. It is the responsibility of the client to inform the office of any changes regarding income and insurance coverage.
