LEGO fun on a budget

LEGO Friends fans have had a lot of great new sets to enjoy lately. At a quick glance, you might think the Emma's Sports Car set is simply Emma and her car. What pushes this set to $14.99 is the inclusion of some nice mini-builds. Included in this set is a street sign directing the LEGO Friends to the beach or to the mountains. There's also a picnic bench, with a sandwich and water bottle, and a map of Heartlake city.

My daughter couldn't wait to play with this set. She took her kitty to the beach (an old Paradisa baseplate her brother found for her). Emma stopped for a picnic lunch with some of her other LEGO Friends. Just the simple pictures on the street sign inspired a whole range of pretend play that easily kept my daughter entertained for the entire afternoon. The accessories - a phone, backpack purse, and of course the cute kitty - are very nice. Before I knew it there were a range of Friends vehicles and minifigures all over the floor.

This set will make a great addition to your LEGO Friends collection!
