EXCELLENCE IN TESTING SINCE 1981

A NOTE FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Executive Director : Daniel C. Yeager

As your NEBO Board continues to work on updating our accreditation status with several organizations one of the 87 special consideration points that must be satisfied, since the adoption of the ISO17024 or 50 international standards, is the certification and or qualifications of the organization's Staff and Board members. To that end, I have recently completed my I.C.E. Credentialing Specialist Certification (C.C.S.) and as NCCA and ICE members in good standing NEBO is moving closer to updating our accreditation with them. Chairman Jahrling and Vice Chairman Strauss are working on completing their certification as this update comes to you. The ICE certification included passing written performance assessments (tests) after each Module to prove our competency. Being ICE Certified now allows us to work with many other accrediting groups both nationally and internationally for improving the future of all Ocularists seeking the BCO designation. The pursuit of the "moving finish line" of accrediting organizations such as ICE Certification is of course our goal despite the 40 plus requirement changes just since January 1, 2016.

If you would like to get involved in this honorable and challenging task please contact anyone at NEBO to learn more about the opportunities for professional exploration and advancement.

Sincerely,

Daniel C. Yeager, PhD, BCO, FASO
BADO, CCS
