MARCH 2024 NEWSLETTER

A Message from the Business Manager

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

As we kick off this new year, it's crucial to reflect on the reputation of the IBEW. Whether we're representing the IBEW on the job site or in public, our actions and conduct play a significant role in shaping how others perceive our organization. Every time we wear IBEW gear, work under an IBEW contract, or identify ourselves as IBEW members, we have the power to influence public opinion. Even the smallest comments or actions can sway perception positively or negatively. Our goal is to not only retain our existing members but also to attract others to join our brotherhood. In today's world, where virtually everything is recorded, we must remain vigilant. Whether on or off the job, our actions are scrutinized, especially when we're wearing branded IBEW gear. When we proudly display the IBEW brand on our clothing, hats, stickers, or social media posts, we must recognize that we represent the entire IBEW brotherhood. Acting irresponsible while representing the IBEW undermines the interests of our organization and carries consequences. On the other hand, showcasing the IBEW through outstanding deeds demonstrates true allegiance and deserves praise and recognition. We celebrate those selfless actions that exemplify the IBEW Code of Conduct. While we all know the difference between right and wrong, the choices we make when no one else is watching define our character and shape our reputation. Together, let's commit to enhancing the reputation of the IBEW for generations to come.

In solidarity,

Chris Donaldson
