

GLOBAL ENTREPRENEUR | TRANSFORMATIONAL LEADER | VISIONARY SPEAKER

Jewel Daniels Radford is a dynamic corporate trainer, international speaker, and accomplished author who has built Daniels Communications Global into a powerhouse firm serving an elite clientele, including the U.S. Army, CPJ, Couples Resorts, Vistaprint, MegaMart, Total Jamaica, and the City of Savannah. As the author of four impactful books, her latest, Three Sides of Every Crisis, has been heralded by bestselling author Les Brown as “a powerful book that will transform your life and allow you to navigate what we are going through right now, victoriously!”

A progressive and results-driven leader, Jewel possesses an innate ability to identify and fulfill Learning & Development needs, helping organizations—ranging from global industry leaders to small businesses and nonprofits—achieve sustainable growth. Her exceptional business acumen and people-first leadership have propelled countless individuals from personal success to transformative greatness that serves others. Recognized by the Congressional Black Caucus Foundation as “one of the brightest thinkers in the world on issues of urgent concern to African Americans,” Jewel is deeply committed to economic empowerment, social advocacy, and community development. She is the Founder of Inspire and Serve, a groundbreaking nonprofit that merges tourism with purpose-driven service, uplifting women, young girls, and boys in underserved communities.

Her trailblazing leadership extends across professional organizations, where she has held prestigious positions, including:

- President, Human Resource Management Association of Jamaica – Western Chapter
- President, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. – Jamaica Alumnae Chapter
- President, Association for Training and Development – Savannah GIG
- First Woman & Youngest Chair, Georgia Summit of African American Business Organizations

Jewel is an esteemed member of the Association for Training and Development, HRMAJ, Montego Bay Chamber of Commerce, and the Public Sector Organization of Jamaica. She has also dedicated her expertise to community service, serving on the boards of Communities in Schools, the MLK Foundation, and Quantum, Inc. Her academic credentials reflect her commitment to excellence and global engagement. She holds a Master’s in Organizational Leadership, a B.A. in Communications from Hampton University, and is a graduate of New York University’s Public Relations Institute. She also studied International Relations and Political Science at Yonsei University in South Korea, where she was among the first African Americans to do so.

A sought-after voice in media, Jewel has been featured in Skirt magazine, Onyx Woman, Georgia Trend magazine, and The Savannah Morning News. She has been recognized by former Georgia Gov. Roy Barnes and Congressman Jack Kingston for her contributions to leadership and business development. Beyond her professional achievements, Jewel is an avid reader, world traveler, and talented painter who finds joy in mentoring young women. However, she considers her greatest blessing to be her daughter, Jynnah, a social anthropologist.
