

Ethical Code of Conduct for Persons Served

Person Served Code of Ethics

As a person who is receiving services from TASC, Inc. I understand that I am responsible for my actions. I agree to:

- ~ act in ways that bring respect to me, my family and friends and staff within the program,
- ~ not use bad language, swear, insult or fight with other people,
- ~ not engage in any form of personal abuse toward others, including verbal, physical and emotional abuse,
- ~ participate actively in my program,
- ~ try new activities and learn new skills to the best of my ability,
- ~ inform my family or caregivers of my program activities,
- ~ to be on time and dressed appropriately for all program activities,
- ~ not expect the staff to give me gifts, give me money,
- ~ to ask staff if I may call them at home...if they agree, I will be reasonable and responsible about the time of day and how often I call,
- ~ talk to a TASC staff about any problem that may develop, and
- ~ to follow all established rules and guidelines of TASC.

I have read, or this has been read to me, and I agree to abide by the TASC Code of Conduct. I understand that if I violate this Code of Conduct, I will be subject to consequences, up to and including being prohibited from participating in any activities or programs of TASC.
