Samuel Compton is a talented entrepreneur and a graduate of a Catholic university who is passionate about combining faith, leadership, and creativity in his work. He is the founder and head of ILL Apparel, a brand built not only around fashion but around a deeper mission and purpose.

ILL Apparel is more than a brand—it is a movement. It represents the idea of being a difference maker in society and encourages people to stand for what they believe in and believe in what they stand for. The brand promotes living with conviction and courage, inspiring individuals to set themselves apart from the culture around them.

The message “Be the ILlest” reflects this vision. It calls people to be set apart, to walk in freedom, and to strive to make a positive difference in the world. Most importantly, it encourages individuals to be a light to others and to live in a way that ultimately points people back to Christ.
