

YOUR BUSINESS IS BEING SUED UNDER THE DRAM SHOP LAW

How Will You Answer The Deposition?

You have been notified that someone left your establishment intoxicated and was involved in a fatal accident with another vehicle. You and your employees are being deposed. How will you and your employees answer these questions?

- Do you have a written alcohol management policy?
- What does your policy contain regarding preventing sales to underage and sales to intoxicated patrons?
- How do you know your employees read and understood the policy?
- What is your Standard of Care for selling alcohol?
- How often do you train your employees?
- Who conducts your training?
- What topics are covered in the training?
- Do you have proof of training?
- What is your policy for selling to intoxicated patrons?
- What is your procedure after an employee detects an intoxicated patron?
- Do you educate the public on ABC laws?
- Do you offer alternative transportation for patrons?
- How do you promote alcohol sold at your business?

These are just some of the questions you and your employees will be asked during a deposition by the Plaintiff. If you can not answer all or some of these questions with confidence, Alcohol Management can help. Our face-to-face Alcohol Risk Management Training covers these issues and more. We can help you develop a written Alcohol Risk Management Policy that will cover all of the Standard of Care topics.
