OK World, Im back, or at least back in this forum;)

It is Wednesday, and I have a day off. This happens way too much if you ask me, that is why I have only managed to log 707 hours of classroom time in the last 14 months of Vocational training.:(

But, also, I lost  $\frac{1}{2}$  of the day to "Mandatory Yard", which is where everyone MUST go outside. I was out there during the heatwave, with almost no shade and very few places to sit for several hours; but it was better than last week, I guess... That was 3 days of 8am to 3:45pm, and the sunburn I got was quite painful. It is not so much hot here, I am used to over 100°F, having been raised in the greater Sacramento Area; Here, it is the intensity of the sun at the lower Latitude and near the ocean, it is alot.

Anyway, I am here for a reason today, I promised this update, and here it is:

1) Here is my newest Certificate of Completion from NCCER, (Except it is from February, and there are already more on the way,) it is for my Passing the Proctored online NCCER test associated with the Power Industry Fundamentals course;

2) Also attached is my transcript from the NCCER connected site for training, Pearson, for the Electronics Systems Technician Level One course. I sorta Rocked that shit.lol What is a 95.8% grade? A+? A 3.9? IDK, But I am kinda proud and trying to ride the momentum into Level Two;

3) Next, after those 3 pages, is the veidence taht I passed as far as the CDCR is concerned, and allegedly was awarded 3 more weeks of Milestone Completion Credits off my sentence for it. I say allegedly, becuase I already earned 35 days, or 5 weeks, and some genius forgot to carry the one when inputting it into the computer up front, intentionall or not, (But as often as this happens here in this place full of free-staff who are related to Correctional Officers who work here, by marriage, or inbreeding or whatever, since they made such a huge stink about Milestones to begin with, is enough to raise theyebrow of any person paying attention and possessed of just s light bit of critical thinking skills,) so I only have credit for 25 days and they suffer from so much hubris in the CDCR that even the $100k+/years salary earners in Sacramento who reveiw appeals for CDCR, cannot conceive of the idea that September 18, 2025 minus 35 days does not equal August 24, 2025.

Go ahead, take a second to do the math on your own real quick, it is just very simple arithmetic. Ill wait...

See? It equals August 14, 2025. Not Rocket Science

Unless you are blinded by Hubris and Pro-Law Enforcement Bias/Anti Prisoner Bias, of course.

I am fighting it though, as mentioned before. Im pretty sure that is what causes some people who spy on this page to say I am not rehabilitated: I point out when Im being taken advantage of, cheated or abused by my captors;

4) Here is the Order Form for the Food Sale coming up. Thank you to everyone who sent money to help me get some treats, it really is a high class reprieve from the Mutt-feed we get daily.

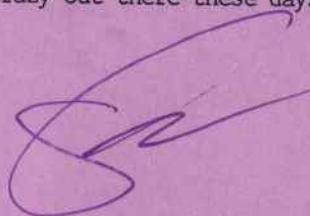

But while I am grateful for the opportunity to get some Popeye's Chicken, am I the only one who thinks that $10 is a bit steep for that sandwich? lol

And seriously, what the bleep is "Code 4 Charity Foundation"? Look at that? Does that P.O. Box up the street look suspiciously like some Correctional Officer's shell company and tax shelter? lol;)

(Yeah, funny, but not just a joke...kinda...)

Alright, Im realizing that Im feeling the weight of my incarceration today and am being a bit provocative, so Ill go ahead and shut up for today. Thanks for putting up with me, I swear, Im not always like this.

You all take care, and stay hydrated!! Its crazy out there these days!!
TTYL.
