Finding the Right Service for Support Following an Assessment

We encourage you to reflect on the reasons you're seeking a diagnosis and consider how this information could assist you in the future. It's important to conduct your own research and discuss your options with your psychiatrist, GP, or other mental health professionals to determine the best path forward.

Working closely with skilled healthcare professionals is essential to developing a personalized treatment plan tailored to your unique needs and preferences. These plans may include a combination of medical and psychological approaches, such as medications, psychotherapy, behavioral interventions, and lifestyle adjustments.

Steps to Take:

- Research and Due Diligence: Take the time to explore your options, compare services, and ensure each one aligns with your needs. Book appointments early to secure the right fit for your journey.
- Ongoing Support: Should you choose to continue with Empowered Self Psychology & Holistic Centre after your diagnosis, we can assist in transitioning you to one of our psychologists, counselors, or social workers for therapy and support strategies at any stage of the process.

Potential Areas of Support:

- Managing ADHD and related symptoms, such as disorganization, emotional dysregulation, depression, anxiety, low self-esteem, and impulsivity.
- Your treating psychologist can provide ongoing sessions for maintenance and support.
- If medication is necessary, consultation with a psychiatrist may be required.
- Counseling can be conducted on-site or via telehealth with our experienced counselors.
- A social worker can assist with linking you to social services and additional support systems, like Circle of Security Facilitation, for enhancing attachment and bonding with children.

By taking these steps, you can ensure your treatment plan is comprehensive and suits your individual needs.
