

INFINITE MUSIC RISING STARS PIANO™ RULES AND POLICIES

Rising Stars Piano™ (RS Piano) is a tuition-free music lesson program in piano or violin, which empowers students with one-on-one music lessons emphasizing preparation, confidence, patience, discipline, and perseverance while providing an invaluable opportunity for students to learn either of these foundational instruments. There is no cost to apply; lessons are funded through a special grant through Infinite Music (IM) and its sponsors. Selection of students receiving lessons is based on the endowment and grant dollars available and individual student's application need.

All applications submitted must follow the rules and conditions outlined below. Those that do not meet these requirements may be disqualified.

- All applications must be submitted by deadline. (October 1, 2025, 12 midnight)

If an application contains materials that appear to violate any of these rules, IMRS Selection Committee may, at their sole discretion, disqualify the application in its entirety or withdraw the remaining balance of an award that has not been paid out on the selected recipient's behalf.

Disqualification also may occur if an application that is submitted on time contains any omissions, errors, or falsifications. However, IMRS Selection Committee, at their sole discretion, may contact the applicant's parent/guardian to point out the violation and provide the parent/guardian time to complete or correct the application.
