Re: Letter of Recommendation

To Whom It May Concern,

Jeffrey was retained by California State University Fullerton as Project Manager, Special Consultant to manage architectural design, engineering and construction of major and minor capital improvement projects. Specifically, he was responsible for closing out the construction phase of the College of Business and Economics (CBE), completion of construction documentation, permitting and approvals for the new Children's Center, and highly visible improvements to the campus gateway entrance. Jeff's persistence and patience were key to his success in accomplishing these goals in a satisfactory manner. His pro-active management style and willingness to take on new challenges also contributed to the timely completion of these projects. We highly recommend Jeffrey for future employment opportunities involving the management of design, engineering and construction services.

Sincerely,

Jack Bage
Associate Director, Office of Design and Construction
California State University, Fullerton
