Harriet tries the bathtub faucet and is pleasantly surprised to find that it works.

We'll see how long this lasts.

26 INT. BATHROOM - LATER 26

Hot water flows over Harriet's face. She pushes her hair back from her forehead.

Unnoticed by Harriet, a few thick strands of grimy hair snake their way out of the drain towards her feet. More tentacles crop out from the large one.

They get closer and closer to her ankles.

Harriet takes a sip of her beer-

- suddenly she is pulled off of her feet and slams into the bottom of the tub.

The black hair tentacles have wrapped around her feet and are pulling her closer. More tentacle creep out of the drain. *

Harriet screams and tries to pull her legs free. She scrambles, but like the two men before her, she can't get a grip on the slippery tub. She is fighting a losing battle - she looks around wildly for something. *

On the floor, foaming wildly, is her overturned beer bottle. She reaches for it and smashes it over the side of the tub.

Acting quickly, she swipes the jagged glass at the tentacles, severing them and freeing herself. She scrambles out of the bathtub, grabbing a robe off the towel rack as she flees. *
